AAC (AUTO-CLAVE AERATED CONCRETE) BLOCKS BUSINESS

1. INDUSTRY STRUCTURE & DEVELOPMENT

The building materials sector in India is a key constituent of the country's construction industry. Driven by recent growth in the infrastructure and the construction industry, the building material sector has recorded considerable growth over the last few years. Furthermore, India's economic performance and rapid increase in per capita income signal excellent growth prospects for this sector.

Economic growth and demand for building materials always move hand-in-glove given the intricate correlation between GDP growth and the level of construction activities. Strong economic growth, expanding population, industrialization, and urbanization results in increased infrastructure and housing needs thus translating into improved construction activities across all sectors - residential, commercial and infrastructure.

Environmental conservation has also become a key focus area, as buildings account for about 35-40% of energy consumption and also account for about a third of the global greenhouse gas emissions. Growing emphasis on sustainability is thus expected to spur demand for green building materials Like Auto Clave Aerated blocks.

AAC INDUSTRY IN INDIA "AN ECOFRIENDLY INITIATIVE FOR THE CONSTRUCTION INDUSTRY"

Autoclaved Aerated Concrete AAC blocks manufacturing is a growing industry in India. AAC is a Swedish product and promises to bring drastic changes to construction industry in India. AAC has superior performance and offers advantages over Red bricks. AAC blocks offer interesting options for construction industry. The first Aerated Autoclaved Blocks were conceptualized and invented by Swedish architect and inventor, Johan Axel Eriksson in the mid 1920's. This fire resistant building material gained popularity much later and once it began to be recognized, there was no looking back. Later in 1940's, these blocks gained ground. In India, however, it is still in the developing years and there are few recognized companies like us, at Mohit (NXT BLOC) in India. Use of Autoclaved Aerated Concrete (AAC) blocks in construction industry in India offers interesting proposition for various segments in the society. For a project developer it means faster and lower cost construction. For environmentally conscious it means eco-friendly products and for those who occupy buildings built with AAC blocks it means better safety and lower energy costs for cooling or heating.

Asia-Pacific is the fastest growing regional market for building materials over the analysis period 2007-2015. Growth is primarily driven by strong construction activities. This is due to mass exodus of manufacturing and production bases to low cost Asian countries. Continuous and rapid industrialization in regional powerhouses such as China and India is also a driving factor. Increasing income levels, higher spending power, improving standards of living, etc. lead to higher demand for residential and commercial constructions.

AAC is a lightweight material produced by mixing rich material (sand or fly ash/pond ash), cement, lime, gypsum, aluminum powder/paste and water. Aluminum acts as a catalyst. It generates hydrogen gas upon mixing with cement paste during AAC blocks manufacturing. As Hydrogen gas escapes from concrete mix, it imparts a porous structure to AAC blocks. The finished product is a 3 times lighter Block compared to Red Bricks, while providing the similar strengths. The specific gravity stays around 0.6 to 0.65. This is one single most USP of the AAC blocks, because by using these blocks in structural buildings, the builder saves around 30 to 35 % of structural steel, and concrete, as these blocks reduce the dead load on the building significantly AAC became much popular gradually all over the world. Now AAC is one of the most ideal and environment friendly building materials.

Shelter is third skin, according to a German Concept, which implies its importance next to human Skin and Clothing. This also shows the attachment of human race to this fundamental requirement. Building Material accounts for major component of the construction cost. Depending on the location they can contribute to 60 - 70 % of the cost of construction. With the ever increasing population, the demand for housing increases. This directly creates demand for this prime commodity of building. Add to the above fact the nearby area of this project site is undergoing a major infrastructure revolution. As Residential, Commercial, IT companies, and Industrial establishments are coming in, we can conclude that the Blocks unit will prosper and flourish in this environment. There is a central government gadget notification mandating government departments and CPWD to use 100% Fly Ash based Bricks in their all constructions directly of through contractors. This factor will help the marketability of this product immensely. Fly Ash policy of the Government also mandates that 20% of Fly ash Generated by a power plant must be given free of cost to SME sector on a priority basis. In INDIA, according to market analysis, currently AAC Blocks manufacturer only produce 20% production as actually demanded in market. They would be highly Demandable in near future.

2. OPPORTUNITY & STRENGTH

- Abundance raw material like Lime, Fly Ash, gypsum, Aluminum Powder
- Reduction of GHG Emission or Earning of Carbon Credit
- High Demand in Future as Green product
- Conserves natural resources and decreases air pollution as well as Earthquake Resistance
- Use of Fly ash – Industrial Waste- as an ingredient of building material and No Generation of Waste in atmosphere
- Better Quality employment creation and Reduction of Dependence on fossil fuels

3. RISK AND CONCERN

- High transportation Cost
- Understanding of various equipments, communications and awareness about local laws, documentation and compliances
- Lack of latest technology or Machineries needed to be import from China.
- Insufficient Supply of Labour Force
- High Finance Cost and Investment cost
- Unfavourable Exchnage rate Fluctuation
- Substantial Gap between Demand & supply of Coal
- Lack of entry barrier attracting new entrant into line of business

4. BUSINESS OUTLOOK

Your Company has installed autoclaved aerated concrete (AAC) blocks manufacturing unit of capacity 300,000 m<sup>3</sup>/annum in Gujarat. Your Company's AAC Blocks are marketing in Brand Name of "NXTBLOC". The market Characteristic shows the demand for AAC Blocks as green product increase due to its various advantages like natural lightweight, earthquake and fire resistance attracts more customers in future. Company use waste material fly ash generated from thermal power plants as the primary raw material for manufacturing AAC Blocks. Production of AAC blocks will replace conventional fired (baked) clay/Red bricks as construction material. The energy requirement for fired clay bricks manufactured in India is supplied predominantly by high carbon intensive fossil fuel sources. AAC blocks are manufactured by the autoclaving process, which is less energy intensive as compared to the thermal baking process used for manufacturing of fired clay/Red bricks results in lower greenhouse gas emission as compared to the conventional clay/Red bricks manufacturing process. Reductions of GHG emission provide earning of Carbon Credit in future. Your Company has proceeds for the GHG abatement under verified carbon Standard (VSC) and to gain financial benefits through sale of carbon Credit.

The Company is also planning expansion in its AAC unit by setting up new project near to Hosur in Tamilnadu for which the company has identified land and would finalized the same soon and shall start construction work for its Hosur Plant by 2014.
