Notice 82

After enjoying a high growth phase for the past 4-5 years, the Indian Economy slowed down significantly in 2012-13, and registered a mere 5% growth on the back of below average performance of the manufacturing & services sectors. The IMF in its update of World Economic Outlook, lowered the World GDP growth projections by 0.1% each for 2013 & 2014 as compared to its earlier projections of October 2012. This is a consequence of renewed setbacks in Euro area and increasing risks of excessive fiscal consolidation in the US. This makes the global environment in the coming years more uncertain.

In the context of India, the adverse macro-economic developments of 2011-12 continued through the first half of the current financial year. This was manifest in terms of the broad based slowdown in real GDP growth for the current year. The growth is on the lower side not only as compared to the recent past but also in context of the growth trends witnessed since 2003-04. And this slowdown is primarily on account of the slowdown in the industrial sector as well as the agricultural sector.

This slowdown has been precipitated by domestic factors as well as factors emanating from the rest of the world, particularly advanced economies & India's major trading partners. The crisis in the Euro-zone area & slow growth in many other advanced economies have affected growth in India through dynamic linkages. Domestic factors, including the tightening of monetary policy in order to control inflation & rein in inflationary expectations resulted in slowdown of investments & growth, particularly in the industrial sector.

In 2013, the world economy is expected to perform better however it is expected to be slow & uncertain. Inflation has eased a bit as compared to 2011-12, but it has been slow, denying requisite flexibility to RBI to undertake reduction in policy rates. However, with the reform measures undertaken recently to improve investor sentiments in the economy as well as to improve fiscal situation alongwith the expectation of improvement in the global economic scenario, there is a possibility of revival of growth in 2013-14.

Global Pharmaceutical Market

The global pharmaceutical scenario reflects the overall slowdown in the world economy.

According to IMS Health market data, the global pharma market registered a growth of 2.4% only in 2012, as against 5.3% in 2011. The major reason for this slowdown is the decline recorded by US & Europe markets which contracted by 1% each.

The pharmerging markets of Asia & Latin America on the other hand registered double digit growths of 12.8% & 10.9% respectively, while the Japanese market was static.

Going ahead, IMS Health predicts that in the developed markets of US, Europe & Japan, the spending on medicines will decline and the market share in the global pharma market will fall to 57% by 2016 from the current 71%. This is primarily due to expiring patents for a number of branded drugs, slower increase in spending on branded products & increased cost containment measures by payers.

An accelerated shift to the use of generic medicines is expected, both from an unprecedented level of patent expiries in the US, & from volume-driven growth in the largely generic using pharmerging markets. At the same time, lower cost versions of expensive biologic medicines, or biosimilars, will continue to be launched, though slowly & will account for only 2% of the $200-210 Bn in spending on biologics by 2016.

Innovative products are expected to be launched which will bring important new treatment options to patients with cancer, diabetes, thrombosis and debilitating diseases of the central nervous system. Of particular note are the products for diabetes that are expected to bring new options to patients. Additional important new therapies with orphan drug designations or narrow indications are also expected, but will not be a major driver of increased spending. However, some of the gains from the launch of these innovative products will be offset by the patent expiry of existing brands, like Lipitor, Plavix, Nexium, etc

Management Discussion and Analysis

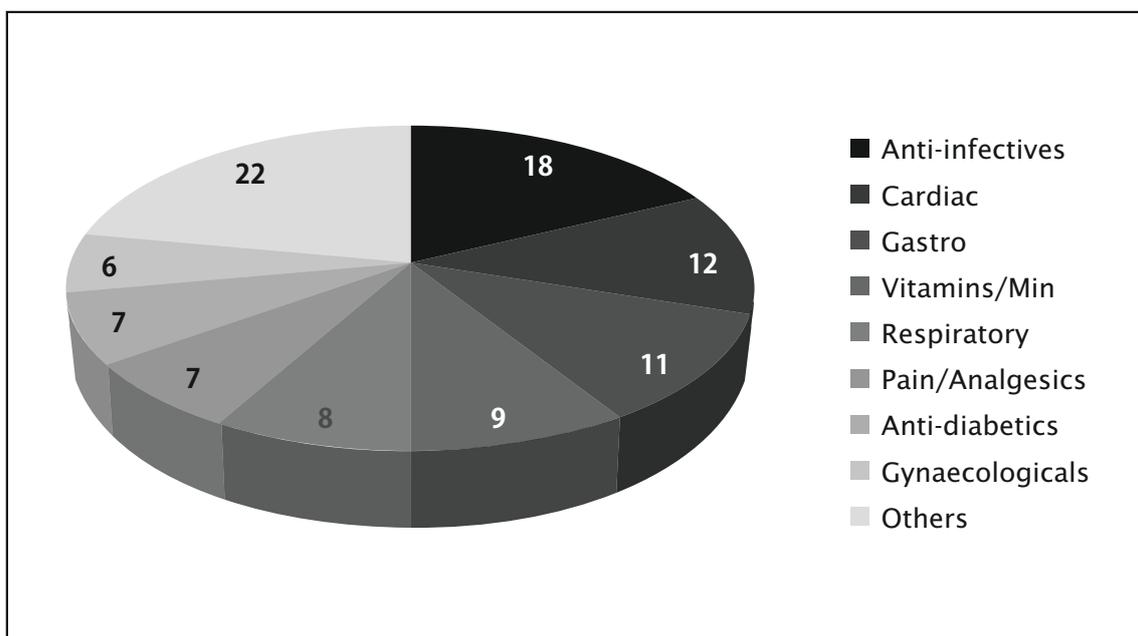

Indian Pharmaceutical Industry

India is now among the top five pharmaceutical emerging markets globally and is a front runner in a wide range of specialties involving complex drugs' manufacture, development, and technology. The Indian pharmaceutical industry is a highly knowledge based industry which is growing steadily and plays a major role in the Indian economy. As a highly organised sector, a number of pharmaceutical companies are increasing their operations in India. The industry is expected to touch US$ 35.9 billion by 2016. As per the IMS dataset, the pharmaceutical market in India for the period MAT June 2013 was ₹ 75500 crores with a growth of 10%. Abbott remained on top position followed by Cipla, Sun Pharmaceutical, GlaxoSmithKline and Zydus Cadila respectively.

The major factors responsible for growth are increasing sales of generic medicines, continued growth in chronic therapies and a greater penetration in rural markets. The cumulative drugs and pharmaceuticals sector has attracted foreign direct investments (FDI) worth US$ 11,304.91 million during April 2000 to April 2013, according to the latest data published by Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion (DIPP).

The Indian pharmaceutical industry would continue to experience strong growth as structural growth drivers continue to remain impervious. The industry is expected to register a growth of 10-12 percent in 2013-14, according to a study by ICRA. It is also expected that in-organic investments will gain momentum in the medium-term as companies plan to create stronger presence in emerging markets and build expertise in select therapy areas.

Therapeutic segment wise breakdown of the Indian Pharmaceutical Market

According to a research paper published by Mckinsey, even in the most pessimistic scenario, India will be a top 3 pharmaceutical markets by incremental growth by 2020 and in absolute size the country will become the 6th largest market globally by 2020. Only USA, China, Japan, Germany and Russia will be ahead of India in the global phama sweepstakes.

The McKinsey report is of the view that India's pharmaceutical market growth will be fairly fragmented, thereby creating opportunities for a large number of players. Nearly two-thirds of the market will be in top cities and tier 1 towns and hence targeting middle class consumer segment will be a key determining factor for success.

'ELDER INTERNATIONAL FZCO' the wholly owned subsidiary of the Company in Jebel Ali, Dubai, United Arab Emirates (Dubai WOS), continues to hold 100% stake in the U.K. based Nutra Health Limited.

The U. K. operations have shown very encouraging results despite the slowing down of the U.K. economy. The said U. K. subsidiary has, in a cashless transaction, acquired Max Healthcare Ltd., U.K. to re-enter the OTC pharmaceutical category and extend and enhance its product range.

Dubai WOS also continues to hold 100% interest in Elder Biomed EAD, Bulgaria which in turn continues to hold 100% stake in downstream Bulgarian entities, namely, Elder Bulgaria EOOD, the manufacturing company and Biomed 2000 EOOD, the distribution company, Bulgaria, being a part of the European Union, offers an excellent opportunity for the Company to enter the Eastern European as well as CIS countries. The manufacturing unit in Bulgaria is being upgraded and once upgradation is completed it is expected that there will be a lot of opportunities for manufacturing products for the Eastern European, CIS and other markets. The distribution business has a lot of potential and during the period under review it has received a number of registrations which will help the distribution company to widen its scope. The distribution company which used to be operating only in the Bulgarian market has now started exporting some of its products to nearby countries.

The Dubai WOS had entered into a 50 : 50 joint venture in Syncro Health Limited, Guernsey (Syncro), which was engaged in web marketing of certain nutraceutical products. Guernsey offered certain tax concessions and this was the consideration for the business set up by Syncro Health Limited which provided a competitive edge as compared to buying nutraceuticals in stores. Since the business of Syncro did not pick up and the concessions offered were also withdrawn by the U. K. Government, the said company ended up in insolvent trading. As per the Guernsey laws, it was voluntarily decided to appoint administrator for Syncro. The liquidation of the said company has been completed.

The Company continues to hold its investment in the Nepal Joint Venture. During recent period there have been certain issues on unilateral decisions taken by the Nepalese partner whereby the Company's stake in terms of percentage to total capital was reduced from earlier 40% to 30.6%. The Company has notified its dissent to the action taken by the partner and has written to the Ministry of Industry, Government of Nepal seeking an amicable solution in the matter. The discussions were held with the Nepalese partner as directed by the Director of Industry, Government of Nepal for arriving at an acceptable solution, however no settlement could be reached so far. Efforts are being made to work out an amicable settlement to resolve the matter.

During the accounting period under review the Company has signed a Memorandum of Understanding with Holding PharmEco, a Russian company, for establishing a joint venture in Russia for setting up manufacturing facility/ies for pharmaceutical formulations / APIs. Notes Annexed to and forming part of the Financial Statements for the year ended 30th June, 2013

NOTE I :

SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES:

i. Basis of Accounting Policies:

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention on accrual basis in accordance with the Companies (Accounting Standards) Rules, 2006 issued under sub-section (3C) of section 211 of the Companies Act, 1956.

ii. Use of Estimates:

The preparation of financial statements requires the Management of the Company to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported balance of Assets & Liabilities, revenue and expenses and disclosures relating to the contingent liabilities. The management believes that the estimates used in preparation of the financial statements are prudent and reasonable. Future events could differ from these estimates. Any revision of accounting estimates is recognised prospectively in the current and future periods.

iii. Fixed Assets:

Fixed Assets are stated at their original cost of acquisition or construction including incidental expenses related to acquisition and installation of the concerned assets.

iv. Depreciation:

Depreciation on fixed assets is provided on straight line method as per Section 205 (2) (b) of the Companies Act, 1956 at the rates and in the manner prescribed under Schedule XIV to the said Act.

The softwares are an integral part of hardware and accordingly considered part of computers.

v. Impairment of Assets:

The Company identifies impairable fixed assets based on cash generating unit concept at the year-end in terms of Para 5 to 13 of AS-28 issued by Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) for the purpose of arriving at impairment loss thereon, if any, being the difference between the book value and recoverable value of relevant assets. Impairment loss, when crystallized, is charged against revenue of the year.

vi. Investments:

Long term investments are stated at cost. Diminution in value, if any, which is of a temporary nature, is not provided for.

vii. Intangible Assets:

Intangible Assets are initially measured at cost and amortized so as to reflect the pattern in which the assets' economic benefits are consumed.

Expenditure on acquiring trade marks is being amortized over a period of five years.

viii. Inventories:

- a) Inventories comprise all costs of purchase, conversion and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition.
- b) Raw Materials, Stores & Spare Parts, Packing Materials, Finished Goods and Work-in-Progress are valued at lower of cost and net realisable value.
- c) Cost (net of input tax credit availed) of Raw Materials, Stores & Spare Parts, Packing Materials & Finished Goods is determined on FIFO basis.
- d) Cost of Finished Goods and Work-in-Progress is determined by taking raw material/packing material cost (net of input tax credit availed), labour and relevant appropriate overheads.

ix. Foreign currency transactions:

Transactions in foreign currencies are normally recorded at the exchange rate prevailing on the date on which the transactions occur.

Outstanding balances of foreign currency monetary items are reported using the year end rates.

Non-monetary items carried in terms of historical cost denominated in a foreign currency are reported using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction and non-monetary items which are carried at fair value or other similar valuation denominated in a foreign currency are reported using the exchange rate that existed when the values were determined.

Exchange differences arising as a result of the above are recognised as income or expense, as the case may be, in the profit and loss account.

In respect of forward contract, the premium or discount on these contracts is recognized as income or expenditure, as the case may be, over the period of the contracts. Any profit or loss arising on cancellation or renewal of such contracts is recognized as income or expense of the year.

x. Derivatives Instruments and Hedge Accounting:

The Company is exposed to foreign currency fluctuation on foreign currency assets and forecasted cash flows denominated in foreign currency. The Company limits the effects of foreign exchange rate fluctuations by following established risk management policies including the use of derivatives. The Company enters into forward exchange and option contracts, where the counter party is a bank. The forward contracts or options are not used for trading or speculation purposes.

In case of forward contract, the difference between the forward rate and the exchange rate, being the premium or discount at the inception of a forward exchange contract is recognised as income/expense over the life of the contract.

Exchange differences on such contracts are recognised in the profit and loss account in the reporting period in which the rates change. Any profit or loss arising on cancellation or renewal of forward exchange contract is recognised as income or expense for the period.

To designate a forward contract or option as an effective hedge, management objectively evaluates and evidences with appropriate supporting documents at the inception of each contract whether the contract is effective in achieving offsetting cash flows, attributable to the hedged risk. To the extent, hedges are designated effective, neither gain nor loss is recognised in the profit and loss account.

xi. Foreign operations :

The financial statements of integral foreign operations are translated as if the transactions of the foreign operations have been those of the Company itself.

In translating the financial statements of a non-integral foreign operation for incorporation in the financial statements, the assets and liabilities, both monetary and non-monetary, of the non-integral foreign operation are translated at the closing rate; income and expense items of the non-integral foreign operation are translated at average exchange rate prevailing during the year and all resulting exchange differences are accumulated in a foreign currency translation reserve until the disposal of the net investment.

When there is a change in the classification of a foreign operation, the transaction procedures applicable to the revised classification are applied from the date of the change in classification.

xii. Sales:

Revenue from sales of goods is being recognized on accrual basis on transfer of ownership to the customers. The sales are stated net of trade discounts, excise duty, sales returns and sales taxes.

Revenue from rendering of services is recognized on completion of service.

xiii. Export Benefits / Incentives :

Benefits on account of entitlement of export incentives are recognized as and when the right to receive the same is established.

xiv. Leases :

Lease rentals are accounted on accrual basis in accordance with the terms of respective lease agreements.

xv. Research and Development :

Revenue expenditure incurred on Research and Development is charged to Profit & Loss Account in the year it is incurred.

Capital expenditure is included in the respective heads under fixed assets.

xvi. Retirement Benefits :

a). Contributions to the Provident Fund are made at a pre-determined rate and charged to the Profit & Loss Account.

xvii. Borrowing Costs :

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition or construction of an asset are capitalized as part of the cost of that asset, up to the date such assets are ready for their intended use.

Other borrowing/ financing costs are charged to the Profit & Loss Account.

xviii. Taxation:

Current tax is measured at the amount expected to be paid to the tax authorities in accordance with the provisions of local Income tax as applicable to the financial year.

Deferred income tax reflect the impact of current year timing differences between taxable income and accounting income of the year and reversal of timing differences of earlier years. Deferred tax is measured based on the tax rates and tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the Balance Sheet date.

In case where the tax assessments have been completed but the appeals are pending at various appeal fora, the tax payments have been set-off against the provisions in the Balance Sheet. Appropriate disclosures have been made towards contingent liabilities, if any

xix. Provisions and Contingent Liabilities:

A provision is recognized when the Company has a present obligation as a result of a past event. It is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, in respect of which reliable estimates can be made.

Provisions are not discounted to its present value and are determined based on best estimates required to settle the obligation at the Balance Sheet date.

A disclosure for a contingent liability is made when there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may, but probably will not, require an outflow of resources. Where there is a possible or present obligation in respect of which the likelihood of outflow of resources is remote, no provision or disclosure is required.

NOTE I : SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES*i. Principles of Consolidation:

- a) The financial statements of the Company and its subsidiary companies are combined on line - by - line basis by adding together the book values of like items of assets, liabilities, income and expenses after fully eliminating intra-group balances and intra-group transactions resulting in unrealised profits or losses in accordance with the Accounting Standards - AS (21) 'Consolidated financial statements' as notified by the Companies (Accounting Standards) Rules, 2006.
- b) The difference between the cost of investments in subsidiaries, over the net assets at the time of acquisition of shares in the subsidiaries is recognised in the financial statements as Goodwill.
- c) As far as possible, the consolidated financial statements are prepared using uniform accounting policies for like transactions and other events in similar circumstances and are presented in the same manner as the Company's separate financial statement.
- d) Investments other than in subsidiaries have been accounted as per Accounting Standard - AS (13) 'Accounting of Investments'.

ii. Basis of Accounting Policies:

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention on accrual basis in accordance with the Companies (Accounting Standards) Rules, 2006 issued under sub-section (3C) of section 211 of the Companies Act, 1956.

iii. Use of Estimates:

The preparation of financial statements requires the Management of the company to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported balance of Assets & Liabilities, revenue and expenses and disclosures relating to the contingent liabilities. The management believes that the estimates used in preparation of the financial statements are prudent and reasonable. Future events could differ from these estimates. Any revision of accounting estimates is recognised prospectively in the current and future periods.

iv. Fixed Assets:

Fixed Assets are stated at their original cost of acquisition or construction including incidental expenses related to acquisition and installation of the concerned assets.

v. Depreciation:

Depreciation on fixed assets is provided on straight line method as per Section 205 (2) (b) of the Companies Act, 1956 at the rates and in the manner prescribed under Schedule XIV to the said Act.

The softwares are an integral part of hardware and accordingly considered part of computers.

vi. Impairment of Assets:

The Company identifies impairable fixed assets based on cash generating unit concept at the year-end in terms of Para 5 to 13 of AS-28 issued by Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) for the purpose of arriving at impairment loss thereon, if any, being the difference between the book value and recoverable value of relevant assets. Impairment loss, when crystallized, is charged against revenue of the year.

vii. Investments:

Long term investments are stated at cost. Diminution in value, if any, which is of a temporary nature, is not provided for.

viii. Intangible Assets:

Intangible Assets are initially measured at cost and amortized so as to reflect the pattern in which the assets' economic benefits are consumed.

Expenditure on acquiring trade marks is being amortized over a period of five years.

ix. Inventories:

- a) Inventories comprise all costs of purchase, conversion and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition.
- b) Raw Materials, Stores & Spare Parts, Packing Materials, Finished Goods and Work-in-Progress are valued at lower of cost and net realisable value.
- c) Cost (net of input tax credit availed) of Raw Materials, Stores & Spare Parts, Packing Materials & Finished Goods is determined on FIFO basis.
- d) Cost of Finished Goods and Work-in-Progress is determined by taking raw material/packing material cost (net of input tax credit availed), labour and relevant appropriate overheads.

x. Foreign currency transactions:

Transactions in foreign currencies are normally recorded at the exchange rate prevailing on the date on which the transactions occur.

Outstanding balances of foreign currency monetary items are reported using the year end rates.

Non-monetary items carried in terms of historical cost denominated in a foreign currency are reported using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction and non-monetary items which are carried at fair value or other similar valuation denominated in a foreign currency are reported using the exchange rate that existed when the values were determined.

Exchange differences arising as a result of the above are recognised as income or expense, as the case may be, in the profit and loss account.

In respect of forward contract, the premium or discount on these contracts is recognized as income or expenditure, as the case may be, over the period of the contracts. Any profit or loss arising on cancellation or renewal of such contracts is recognized as income or expense of the year.

xi. Derivatives Instruments and Hedge Accounting:

The Company is exposed to foreign currency fluctuation on foreign currency assets and forecasted cash flows denominated in foreign currency. The Company limits the effects of foreign exchange rate fluctuations by following established risk management policies including the use of derivatives. The Company enters into forward exchange and option contracts, where the counter party is a bank. The forward contracts or options are not used for trading or speculation purposes.

In case of forward contract, the difference between the forward rate and the exchange rate, being the premium or discount at the inception of a forward exchange contract is recognised as income/expense over the life of the contract.

Exchange differences on such contracts are recognised in the profit and loss account in the reporting period in which the rates change. Any profit or loss arising on cancellation or renewal of forward exchange contract is recognised as income or expense for the period.

To designate a forward contract or option as an effective hedge, management objectively evaluates and evidences with appropriate supporting documents at the inception of each contract whether the contract is effective in achieving offsetting cash flows, attributable to the hedged risk. To the extent, hedges are designated effective, neither gain nor loss is recognised in the profit and loss account.

xii. Foreign operations :

The financial statements of integral foreign operations are translated as if the transactions of the foreign operations have been those of the Company itself.

In translating the financial statements of a non-integral foreign operation for incorporation in the financial statements, the assets and liabilities, both monetary and non-monetary, of the non-integral foreign operation are translated at the closing rate; income and expense items of the non-integral foreign operation are translated at average exchange rate prevailing during the year and all resulting exchange differences are accumulated in a foreign currency translation reserve until the disposal of the net investment.

When there is a change in the classification of a foreign operation, the transaction procedures applicable to the revised classification are applied from the date of the change in classification.

xiii. Sales:

Revenue from sales of goods is being recognized on accrual basis on transfer of ownership to the customers. The sales are stated net of trade discounts, excise duty, sales returns and sales taxes.

Revenue from rendering of services is recognized on completion of service.

xiv. Export Benefits / Incentives :

Benefits on account of entitlement of export incentives are recognized as and when the right to receive the same is established.

xv. Leases :

Lease rentals are accounted on accrual basis in accordance with the terms of respective lease agreements.

xvi. Research and Development :

Revenue expenditure incurred on Research and Development is charged to Profit & Loss Account in the year it is incurred.

Capital expenditure is included in the respective heads under fixed assets.

xvii. Retirement Benefits :

a). Contributions to the Provident Fund are made at a pre-determined rate and charged to the Profit & Loss Account.

b). Liability towards Gratuity and Leave Encashment is provided on the basis of actuarial determination. Liability towards Superannuation is provided in accordance with the scheme administered by Life Insurance Corporation of India.

xviii. Borrowing Costs :

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition or construction of an asset are capitalized as part of the cost of that asset, up to the date such assets are ready for their intended use.

Other borrowing/ financing costs are charged to the Profit & Loss Account.

xix. Taxation:

Current tax is measured at the amount expected to be paid to tax authorities in accordance with the provisions of local Income tax as applicable to the financial year.

Deferred income tax reflect the impact of current year timing differences between taxable income and accounting income of the year and reversal of timing differences of earlier years. Deferred tax is measured based on the tax rates and tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the Balance Sheet date.

In case where the tax assessments have been completed but the appeals are pending at various appeal fora, the tax payments have been set-off against the provisions in the Balance Sheet. Appropriate disclosures have been made towards contingent liabilities, if any

xx. Provisions and Contingent Liabilities:

A provision is recognized when the Company has a present obligation as a result of a past event. it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, in respect of which reliable estimates can be made.

Provisions are not discounted to its present value and are determined based on best estimates required to settle the obligation at the Balance Sheet date.

A disclosure for a contingent liability is made when there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may, but probably will not, require an outflow of resources. Where there is a possible or present obligation in respect of which the likelihood of outflow of resources is remote, no provision or disclosure is required.
