Dear Shareowners,

India's FY10 GDP numbers have come as a positive surprise at 7.4% beyond the expectations of 7.2%, this was achieved against the global turmoil especially at a time when the developed economies like US and Europe witnessed challenges like unemployment, slowdown in manufacturing activities and falling consumption.

The estimate for India 2010-11 of 7.9% has been pulled up to 8.2% based on the Central Statistical Organisation advance estimates, while worries over factors like Europe's debt crisis, high inflation, rising fuel prices remain. The government has got a breather by the recent 3G spectrum auction and broadband auction to counter the rising fiscal deficit.

A continued slowdown in the global economy could lead to exports remaining depressed especially in US and Europe contributing to 20% and 12% of our exports respectively and any tightening by the Reserve Bank of India to combat inflationary pressure could cost the Indian economy 0.5% in terms of GDP, but estimates by various institutions across India point to a 8% GDP growth rate in 2010-11.

Your company concluded FY10 with 3.3% increase in revenues at INR 522 crores, led by the stationery business which grew 5% at INR 240 crores and publications segment grew by 3% at INR 277 crores, despite there being no syllabus change in the two key states Gujarat and Maharashtra. The balance revenue of INR 5 crores was from other sources.

As envisaged, the publications segment performance was in line with our expectations but the performance of the stationery segment was lower than what we had anticipated at the beginning of FY10. With syllabus change commencing in the state of Maharashtra from FY11 and Gujarat likely to follow next year the company expects good growth for the publications segment over the next few years.

The stationery performance was affected on account of building focus and trying to build the business on a few states rather than on a pan-India basis, which was based on inputs from a leading consultancy firm which lowered off take amongst our distributors as operational modalities were carried on. This trend might continue for a couple of months but then the stationery business should be on track. Your company expects double digit growth for stationery business in the coming year as the outlook on exports continues to remain stable.

Your company has made good progress in its e-learning activity. More than 500 schools will use your company's classroom teaching modules in the state of Maharashtra and Gujarat. Most of these schools will use the same in their classrooms. Your company is confident that once the schools start using the product in their day-to-day teaching activities, this segment will gain impetus and your company with its strong brand and relationship built over the last many decades will create a sustainable long term business model.

With the opportunities opening up in the education sector on account of increased government spends, willingness by parents to spend on quality education, improving student-enrolment ratio, the scope for players like Navneet to deliver education based products is so large that we are confident of crossing the INR 1000 crores revenue mark over by FY2015.

Overall your company visualizes ample opportunities across the education sector in India and your company should grow steadily in the years to come.

Shivji K. Vikamsey

Dividend Policy :

Keeping in line with the low capital expenditure requirements for the business, the company continues with its liberal dividend policy and accordingly the company has paid a dividend of 50% or Re 1 per share which works out to 40% payout for FY10. Depending on the capital expenditure requirements for newer initiatives this could change. However, the company expects that a 25% dividend payout will continue.

Wealth Creation:

As the shareholders are aware that your company came out with its Public Offering in 1994 at price of INR 60 per share (INR 10 face value and INR 50 as premium). Your company has consistently rewarded its shareholders with rich dividends year after year.

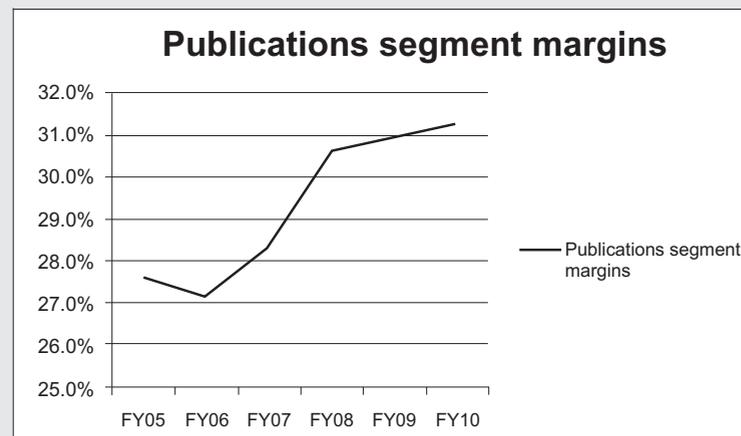

For a shareholder who invested in Public Offering in 1994 for 100 shares at INR 60 per share and the shareholder has stayed invested till date, then by now these 100 shares have become 3750 shares (by virtue of couple of bonus shares and stock split declared earlier by the company). Further, the shareholder would have also received around INR 26,800 as dividends, i.e. approximately 4.50 times of the initial investment amount. Considering the average price of around INR 48 for the month of June 2010, the 3750 shares are now worth around INR 1,80,000, i.e. a growth of 30 times over the initial investment.

Thus, a shareholder having invested INR 6000/- in 1994 has got a cumulative return of around 34.50 times (including dividends) in the last 16 years which gives a healthy compounded return of 27% since your company went public.

Business Overview and frequently asked questions about outlook, opportunities, threats and concerns

Publications Segment :

Revenues from publications business grew 3% on a y-o-y basis at INR 277 crores. The tepid growth in revenues from this segment was that no syllabus change was witnessed in our two key markets, namely Maharashtra and Gujarat during FY10. Despite revenues growing at just 3% EBIT margins were highest for this segment over the last 6 years at 31.3%.

With syllabus change starting from FY11 onwards the company expects to see a double digit growth in revenues for the next few years and expects stable margins across the segment.

Stationery Segment :

Revenues from stationery business grew 5% on a y-o-y basis at INR 240 crores which was lower than our expectations on account of a restructuring exercise undertaken by the company for the long term scalability and profitability in the business thereby reducing off take by distributors; also instead of doing business on a pan-India basis, the company will now focus on five to six states which will improve efficiency in the stationery segment in the years to come. Given the recent volatility in paper prices and benefits of the restructuring, we expect a double digit growth in the stationery business for FY11 post which we should grow at 15% over the next few years.

Other Segments:

The windmills which commenced operations in September 2007 generated power worth INR 5.40 crores and a segment profit of INR 1.10 crores as compared to a loss of 4.80 crores which was on account of ECB loans.

Operating margins and its likely improvement:

Operating profit grew by 6% on a y-o-y basis at INR 111.30 crores. Raw material costs as a percentage of sales fell by over 200 bps which was partially offset by increase in staff costs and other expenditure. The increase in other expenditure can be attributed to the sales and promotion activities pertaining to the coming back to school season. Operating margins improved from 20.7% in FY09 to 21.3% in FY10. Any improvement in margins in FY11 seems unlikely from the current levels.

Capex plans for the current year:

The company has build sufficient infrastructure to cater to its publications and stationery business over the past few years. However, the company may invest in some additional storage facilities, office premises for its various activities and some minor additions to the plant.

Update on the Spanish acquisition:

On account of the global recession the operational performance of Grafalco, a wholly owned subsidiary continues to be affected. With its focus on the European region, especially Spain, the company has now adopted a cautious approach for Grafalco and is changing its business model to cater to the demand of OEMS. With this strategy your company would continue to be a packager and tap the existing and potential client relationship around Europe. However, it would not build on inventory so that losses can be curtailed and the company could potentially grow with any probable recovery in Europe without any major investments.

However, on account of the small contribution to the consolidated turnover, any meaningful impact is not likely to be felt by the performance of Grafalco.

Are paper prices a concern?

As all of you know that paper contributes to over 90% of the total raw material consumed for the company. Over the years your company has developed a strong vendor base to ensure environment-friendly paper at most competitive rates.

The company sources its requirement through the domestic market. However, ever since the beginning of 2010 paper prices have turned very volatile and after starting the year with a downward trend have started looking upwards and have shown a rising trend particularly every month, rising almost 15% over the last 3 months.

Our view is that various factors such as cyclone in Chile, rising pulp prices, deferment of increased costs by paper mills over last year due to global slowdown has led to such a scenario. However, we see the pace of rising prices in paper to taper off in FY 11.

Do we see some impact on our business because of this volatility?

Yes there could be some short term impact especially in our stationery business as that is a lower gross margin business as compared to our publications segment. However, your company has already increased product prices to offset any impact on profitability for the stationery business.

For the publications segment no impact is envisaged because of paper prices on account of the strong content, relationship with schools and the better margin profile.

Corporate Social Responsibility :

Your company continues to use eco-friendly materials for most of its major products catering to environmental needs. Your company continues with its corporate social responsibility initiative and donates mainly in areas of medical aid, education and rehabilitation programmes. For FY10 the company donated INR 2.8 crores as compared to INR 1.6 crores last year.

The management will continue to fulfill its social responsibility on an ongoing basis towards society in whatever best possible manner.

Future growth drivers

Common curriculum could help Navneet grow rapidly

The Ministry of Human Resources and Development has been pushing for some time to reduce stress on India's school-leaving students. The proposal to hold a single entrance exam for competitive studies should go some way towards achieving this. And it's going to be helped by a complementary reform, the adoption of a common curriculum across the country, whether students are in a school affiliated to CBSE, ICSE or one of the state boards. Such a curriculum would give a common platform to students.

Education in a diverse country like India faces unique dilemmas. To reduce stress in the system some degree of standardization is needed, yet a uniform template cannot be decreed across the country. It is possible to start with subjects like maths, science or commerce which are less history and culture dependent. We believe it could work if the education minister can pull off the difficult task of bringing uniformity across the country.

The common curriculum could open up markets beyond Gujarat and Maharashtra if this becomes a reality sooner than later. To test the market your company has already started developing curricula based on NCERT syllabus for primary classes. With common curriculum, given Navneet's strong content creation team, national reach and strong brand built over the years we are sure that we will become a significant player in the supplementary or textbooks market in the years to come.

eSense an e-initiative by Navneet :

How large can this e-learning initiative be?

There are around 1,38,000 schools across Gujarat and Maharashtra, of which nearly 32,000 are private schools and they are our target market. Even if we take a spend on INR 2,00,000 per school the potential market on e-learning or classroom teaching for the private schools can be INR 650 crores.

What is e-learning initiative?

Given the strong relationship with the schools across the two key states, Navneet has expanded the product portfolio in its content business by creating a digitized version of the textbook based on the state level curriculum with some basic and easy-to-use features. Navneet operates in this segment through its 91% subsidiary eSense Learning Private Limited.

Why are we optimistic about this product?

Given the fact that average instructional days in schools across India are just 206 in a year, student-teacher ratio is skewed, school infrastructure is below standards, we believe that our e-learning initiative can be an aid to the teachers as well as students and can aid the learning process.

e-learning business module?

The company has received encouraging response for its classroom oriented e-learning modules in Gujarat and Maharashtra over the last two years. Considering the benefits of the classroom oriented e-learning module, schools in Gujarat and Maharashtra have expressed their desire to subscribe to the classroom module instead of the audio-visual room module.

As this e-learning module is gaining acceptance from student and teacher community in both states, the company has accelerated its efforts on production and marketing. From FY11 onwards the company will offer modules across the upper primary and secondary classes for the state of Gujarat and Maharashtra in English and regional languages.

As on date the company has confirmed orders from 250 schools in Maharashtra and Gujarat and is in advanced stages of negotiation with more than 300 schools for signing of long term contracts. By offering the modules across secondary and higher secondary classes in English and regional languages the company is reasonably confident of signing contracts with 500 schools by the time the school season commences across the two states.

Economic Value Added (EVA)

Economic Value Added means the profitability of a company after taking into account the cost of capital. It is the post-tax return on capital employed (adjusted for the tax shield on debt) less cost of capital employed. Companies which earn higher returns than cost of capital create value. Companies which earn lower returns than cost of capital are deemed destroyer of shareholder value.
