CHANGE IN FINANCIAL YEAR

The financial year 2010-11 of the Company was extended upto June 30, 2011 to fully reflect the performance of the Company for the sugar season 2010-11 which continued beyond March 2011 due to availability of cane. Hence, the financial results for the year under review cover a period of 15 months and not comparable with the results of the previous financial year 2009-2010 which is a 12 months period.

DIVIDEND

In view of the losses incurred, your Board is unable to recommend any dividend for the financial year ended on June 30, 2011.

COMPANY PERFORMANCE

During the year under review your Company's total income was ₹ 41794.67 lakhs as against ₹ 22756.26 lakhs for the previous year. The profit before interest and depreciation of ₹ 1035.42 lakhs was marginally higher compared to last year. The loss before taxation was ₹ 10453.62 lakhs compared to a loss of ₹ 5983.64 lakhs of the last year.

The performance of the Company was adversely affected mainly due to the low sugar selling price and high cost of sugarcane. The sugar prices remained sluggish due to higher sugar output during the year 2010-11 which witnessed a 30-35 percent growth driven mainly by improved cane acreage in response to higher cane prices paid in last two sugar years. Further, during the year in line with the industry, the Company had to pay ₹ 200 per tonne of cane in Karnataka units as additional cane price for the cane supplied during the previous year.

In Karnataka, the unit at Haliyal had a major technical breakdown which affected the production for nearly a month during the peak season thereby seriously affecting performance of the unit. The performance of the plant at Ramdurg was significantly better than last year with a crushing of 457703 MT of cane Vs 205071 MT last year, an increase of 123%. The Company has more or less stabilised the operation of mobilising the harvesting and transportation labour to ensure smooth, continued and unhindered crushing operations.

The performance of the plant at Sankili was better than last year despite adverse impact due to heavy rains leading to delay in start of the crushing season and disruptions in cane supply.

During the year, the Company crushed a total 1295502 MT of cane, produced 1397519 qtls of sugar as against 585352 MT of cane and 566855 qtls of sugar during the previous year, an increase of 121.32% and 146.54% respectively. The average recovery rate was 10.80% Vs 9.70% last year.

The major challenge for the Company in the coming year is to remove the production bottlenecks and to stabilise the plants at all locations to enhance the crushing operations. The Haliyal plant which is equipped with all modern equipments such as diffuser for milling to achieve higher recovery and low power consumption, in-line shredder to achieve better cane preparations and high pressure Boiler to achieve better efficiencies, have to be tested for the first time with crushing at peak capacity. Most of these equipments have been used for the first time by the Company and the various deficiencies in the system alignments have to be rectified which is expected to improve the recovery and performance of the unit the coming year. The Company is also poised to increase the capacity of Haliyal unit and Ramdurg Unit up to 4000 TCD and the coming season will see an increase in the operations of the Company's Karnataka Units. The growth of Sugar industry in South India is expected to be in Karnataka and it is imperative that the Company ramps up production capabilities within the next three years to take advantage of the up-cycle in the sugar cycle as cane is likely to be abundantly available in the next two/three years.

Distillery Division

The distillery division produced 188.85 lakh litres of industrial Alcohol/Ethanol against 95.92 lakh litres in the previous year registering an increase of 96.88% due to commencement of operations of the distillery unit at Haliyal. In value terms, the sale of industrial alcohol/ethanol during the year was ₹ 57.38 crores as against ₹ 35.37 crores in the previous year registering an increase of 62.21%. Increase in production and sale was due to availability of more sugarcane resulting in higher production of molasses.

Power Division

The total power generated by our Co-generation plants was 1508.06 lakhs units as against 1025.57 lakhs units in the previous year mainly due to availability of more bagasse from sugarcane crushing. The sale of power was at ₹ 3179.31 lakhs in the current year as against ₹ 3238.01 lakhs recorded in the previous year. The power exported during the previous year includes export during the off season realising a better tariff. The revenue of the Company is affected by lower tariff of the State Govt. utilities and the Company is exploring the possibility of higher revenue through third party exports and sale through power exchange. Increase in power generation capacity, both season and off season shall be the future thrust area of the Company. The Company is also completing the post registration formalities to avail Certified Emission Reduction (CER) benefits under Clean Development Mechanism (CDM) of United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC).

In an attempt to boost renewable energy production in the country, the Govt. has launched the Renewable Energy Certificate (REC) mechanism which aims at mainstreaming renewable energy sources across the nation. Renewable Energy Certificate is a market based instrument which enables the obligated entities to meet their Renewable Purchase Obligation (RPO). In India, all energy distribution licensees are entitled to buy a minimum level of renewable energy as per the Electricity Act imposed by the State Electricity Regulatory Commission. The Company is actively exploring to avail the benefit of the REC mechanism.

MEASURES TAKEN FOR CANE DEVELOPMENT

Your Company has undertaken a comprehensive Cane Development Program to improve cane acreage and yield in the coming years. Major cane development programmes will continue to be initiated by the Company aiming at improving area under cultivation, cane yield and improving the quality of cane to cater to the enhanced crushing capacity.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS REPORT

INDUSTRY STRUCTURE AND DEVELOPMENT

Sugar Industry is the second largest agro-based industry, next only to the textile industry and India is one of the largest producers and consumers of sugar in the world. The sugar industry in India is highly fragmented. Since sugarcane is the primary raw material from which sugar is manufactured in India, sugar mills are set up in cane growing states such as Uttar Pradesh, Maharashtra, Tamil Nadu, Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh and Gujarat. These six above mentioned states together account for around 85-90 per cent of the sugarcane production in the country. Hence, sugar capacities and production are concentrated in these states.

The sugarcane crop grows for 8-14 months, depending on the climate and the seeds used. Factors that determine the yield and quality of sugarcane are temperature, rainfall and soil. Sugarcane is usually grown in a frost-free, warm and humid climate. In India, around 90 per cent of the sugarcane cultivation happens in irrigated land. In a year of surplus sugarcane production, sugarcane crushing continues beyond April and extends up to June/July, when sugar recovery declines and molasses formation increases significantly.

In most parts of the world, sugarcane is handled manually and involves extensive labour. However, this trend has been changing, with the increasing need to mechanise the operations to improve the recovery rate. Given the nature of regulations in the sugar industry, there are no foreign sugar producers in India. Industrial consumers and households in the country determine the growth of the domestic sugar consumption. Population growth and relative prices of sugar vis-a-vis substitutes such as gur/khandsari determine the direct demand for either of the sweeteners. Indirect (industrial) consumption of sugar can be broadly classified into bakeries, confectioneries & chocolates, soft & fruit drinks, sweetmeats, tea & coffee and other segments like icecreams, jams, alcoholic beverages etc. Growth in production volumes of these various segments coupled with I/O norms (input-output) of sugar content in each of these end-use products is used to forecast growth for sugar consumption from the industrial user segment.

The sugar supply in India also depends on various government controls on the distribution of sugar. The government controls the sale of sugar in the open market through its regulated releases mechanism. In addition to the above factors, the import and export of sugar determine the final supply in the market. Sugar prices, as a result, depend on the demand-supply situation during the year.

Typically, sugarcane and sugar production in India have tended to follow a cyclical pattern. A typical sugar cycle lasts for 3-5 years – lower sugarcane and sugar production results in an increase in sugar prices and higher and prompt payments to farmers, which in turn, leads to an increase in area under cane cultivation. An increase in cane acreage then leads to higher sugar production, decline in sugar prices, lower profitability for mills and consequently delayed payments to farmers, which in turn, results in area under cane cultivation coming down.

BY PRODUCTS

Molasses is a thick syrup by-product from the processing of the sugarcane into sugar. In sugar factories, sugar is crystallised from a concentrated juice in three separate stages wherein each stage results in the production of a crystallised sugar fraction and a non-crystalline fraction or molasses fraction called molasses.

Ethanol, or anhydrous alcohol, is produced from the fermentation of molasses. It is 99.5% pure alcohol. Typically, one tonne of 'C' molasses yields around 225-250 litres of alcohol whereas one tonne of 'B' molasses yields about 320-350 litres of alcohol. Ethanol can be produced from a wide range of raw materials. These raw materials include molasses from the sugar industry, any starch yielding agricultural product such as corn, potatoes, vegetable matter, growing crops, farm wastes, and tropical grasses; waste organic products, such as saw dust; water gas; and industrial waste such as sulphite liquor from the paper and pulp industry. Ethanol can also be produced directly from sugarcane, instead of through the molasses route. In India, ethanol is mostly manufactured from the 'C' molasses obtained during the process of crushing sugarcane. In Brazil, ethanol is produced directly from sugarcane. In September 2008, the government announced a National Policy on bio-fuels which targets 20% ethanol-blending by 2017. However, the ethanol blending programme, which calls for 5% blending of ethanol with petrol, has not taken off so far due to limited feedstock availability, unattractiveness of manufacturing ethanol directly from sugarcane or C molasses, issues related to pricing and tendering and taxation issues at the state level.

CO-GENERATION OF POWER

Globally, most sugar factories use bagasse to meet their electricity and steam requirements. Bagasse is burnt in large furnaces, which releases large amounts of heat for boiling water and generating high-pressure steam. The steam is used to drive a turbine, which generates electricity. The residual low-pressure steam is used in the sugar making process. Co-generated power has environmental benefits in terms of replacing fossil fuels and is also renewable in nature. For a sugar mill, opting for cogeneration of power has the advantages of getting an additional stream of revenue. The mill can also partly protect itself from the cyclical nature of the other businesses – sugar, alcohol, molasses and bagasse. In India, the government is offering a number of incentives to encourage investment in the bagasse-based cogeneration projects in terms of lower financing rates and capital subsidies to cooperatives or public sector sugar mills. Other benefits like accelerated depreciation, income tax holidays, reduced customs duty, central excise exemption and central sales tax exemption are also given in some states. However, the potential for bagasse-based co-generation of power is yet to be realised fully. The Ministry of Nonconventional Energy Sources has estimated that sugar mills have the potential to generate 3500 MW of power through bagasse-based cogeneration. Co-generation sector growth is expected further by various regulatory measures including renewable energy portfolio obligation fixed under National Action Plan for Climate Control (NAPCC) of Government of India and generic tariff norms announced for co-generation projects; norms and pricing framework for Renewable Energy Certificates (RECs); and amendment of the provisions of the grid code to ensure smoother off take and transmission of power by utilities. However, the major bottlenecks in harnessing co-generation potential has been lack of management focus; weak financial position of many sugar mills, especially smaller units including those run by the co-operative sector; and relatively unattractive tariffs.

SUGAR SCENARIO

Given the growing sugar production and the structural changes witnessed in Indian sugar industry, India is all set to continue its domination at the global level. In 2009-10, Indian sugar production started recovering from an unprecedented fall of 11.7 Million MT or 45% in 2008-09. The domestic sugar industry prices had shown a hardening trend since Q4 of sugar year 2008-09 in anticipation of continued depressed production in sugar year 2009-10. This resulted in a sustained uptrend in prices, which reached a peak of ₹ 40,000/MT by end of January 2010. However, there was a significant drop in sugar prices to, as low as ₹ 25,000/MT by August 2010. The fall is attributable to a number of factors. Firstly, there was an upward revision in production estimates for the sugar season ending September 2010. Secondly, there was a significant drop in international sugar prices due to increased sugar production in Brazil as well as India, thus resulting in lower dependence on imports in India. In addition, the Government of India took several measures in order to curb sugar prices. These measures included continued zero duty on imports, allowing bulk consumers to import sugar freely; tight inventory restrictions imposed by the government on buyers and changes in release norms (from monthly to weekly) for free sale sugar. The downward trend in sugar prices continued until end of August 2010, after which prices started rising from mid-September 2010. The price rise may be attributed to three reasons – an increase in demand due to the festive season; a fall in sugar releases during October-November 2010; and a rise in the international prices of sugar, which improved the sentiments for the domestic sugar industry (on the anticipation that sugar mills would be able to export surplus production in SY 2010-11 at remunerative prices). Prices reached a peak of ₹ 30,000/MT by January 2011 although they showed a modest correction since then, following a pick-up in domestic sugar production and the government's decision of withholding exports of sugar under Open General Licenses (OGLs).

In March end, the Central Government has allowed export of 5 Lakhs MT of sugar under the (OGL). The Government extended stockholding curbs on the quantity of sugar stocks that traders and wholesale dealers can hold upto September 30, 2011. The curbs were due to expire on March 31, 2011. But the Government cushioned the move by raising the cap on stock quantity to 500 MT from 200 MT from April 1, 2011. The Government has released notification for increasing levy price in line with Fair and Remunerative Price (FRP) and accordingly levy price has been fixed at ₹ 18.47 per kg of sugar to mills for supplying sugar to the Government in 2010-11 for onward sale to the poor (levy sugar), 5.1% more than the ₹ 17.57 per Kg last year. For the sugar season 2011-12, the Central Government has fixed the FRP at ₹ 145 per quintal linked to a basic recovery rate of 9.5% subject to a premium of ₹ 1.53 per quintal for every 0.1% increase in recovery above that level.

REVIEW OF COMPANY'S BUSINESS

The Company has three Sugar Plants located at:

- (i) Sankili in Andhra Pradesh having a cane crushing capacity of 5000 tonnes per day, Co-generation capacity of 16 Megawatt (MW) and a Distillery unit capacity of 40 Kilo litres per day (KLPD). This unit commenced commercial operation in December 1997.
- (ii) Haliyal in Karnataka having a cane crushing capacity of 3500 tonnes per day (TCD) expandable to 5000 TCD, Co-generation capacity of 24 Megawatt (MW) and a Distillery unit capacity of 45 Kilo litres per day (KLPD). This unit commenced commercial operation in December 2008.
- (iii) Ramdurg in Karnataka was taken on lease from Shri Dhanalaxmi Sahakari Sakkare Karkhane Niyamat (DSSKN) having a cane crushing capacity of 2500 TCD and Co-generation capacity of 6 MW expandable to 13 MW. This unit commenced commercial operation in December 2008.

All the Company's sugar plants are integrated with co-generation and distillery facility except Ramdurg plant which has 6MW Cogen. The Company is continuously working on improving operational efficiencies and production techniques, benchmarking with the best in the industry, globally.

The Company converts bagasse into electricity in its Co-generation units and processes molasses into various types of alcohol, thus completing the value chain. Majority of the sugar facilities of the Company are located in North Karnataka, offering the Company a geographical advantage of being in the highest sugar recovery zone in India and good soil conditions and abundant water with sugarcane recovery being among highest across India.

CANE DEVELOPMENT ACTIVITY AND SUPPORT TO FARMERS

The Company has developed a multipronged plan to increase the availability of cane which is the basic raw material for the manufacture of sugar and life line of any Sugar Company as detailed below.

Infrastructure: Availability of infrastructure to develop cane area nearer to factory area like bore wells, Individual lift irrigation, Community Lift irrigation projects; Pump sets requirements, land reclamations and micro irrigation.

Quality seed nursery programme for all cane divisions: The Company plans to rejuvenate the existing major two high sugar varieties CO 671 and CO 86032 by utilising help from Belgaum Sugar institute. It has also planned to procure seed material from own developed nurseries raised in the grower's field.

Inputs arrangements to facilitate cane crop growth: Timely distribution of inputs like fertilizers, micro nutrients etc. through own or out sourced depots and also by leveraging the synergies from the associate company's "managomor" centres.

Mechanisation: Due to labour shortages, the Company has plans to tie up with local manufacturing companies to arrange equipment like Trash Shredders, Ratoon management device and Mechanical cane planters.

Harvest and transport arrangements: The Company proposes to take a series of measures to improve the relationship with the Harvesting & Transport (H&T) groups. To retain them, several activities have been undertaken and the Company has developed H&T co-ordination team comprising experienced senior level members in each sugar unit to execute these arrangements.

Technical infrastructure support: To execute activities in all sugar units by appointing qualified technical members and to train field force about new innovation in the field by using Sugar institute scientists and other experienced professionals from the private sector.

MARKETING

With increasing production in Karnataka, there is a need for the Company to look for other markets like Institutional sales, sugar deficit markets, retailing and trading. The focus will be different markets for different units with special products catering to the requirement of the particular market. The Company also will use the infrastructure of the holding Company for selling to institutions and retail from sugar produced in Karnataka and Andhra Pradesh. This will increase the reach of the brand across the country while reducing cost of logistics. Due to the adoption of this network, the company will be able to provide customer-specific products directly, which is not possible in the traditional distribution networks.

RISK MANAGEMENT

The Company has adopted a system based approach for risk management, with the clear objectives of identification, evaluation, monitoring and minimisation of the identifiable risks. The Company has a Risk Management Committee for systematic evaluation of the business risks and policy compliance associated with its business through its risk document. The management periodically reviews the risk management framework to identify the major business risks as applicable to the Company and works out their mitigation strategy.

The major risks faced by Sugar business are the availability of cane, regulatory risks, price of sugar and that of sugarcane.

Sugarcane is the key raw material for sugar and any difficulty in getting cane at right time will have impact on the business. The key factors that influence cane availability are climatic condition, availability of cane harvesting labour and farmers opting competitive crops.

Availability of sugarcane is ensured by fostering good relationship with the cane growers. This is done by undertaking various measures in supporting them in cultivating cane. These are in the form of providing assistance in drip irrigation, mechanical harvesting and improved cane varieties. The Company also extends subsidies on good quality seeds, fertilizers and manure, ensures timely cane payment to farmers, timely distribution of indents, proper surveys and incentivising the farmers to cultivate higher volumes of cane in the Company's command area through various means.

The sugar industry is regulated by the central and state governments. Sugarcane price, known as Fair and Remunerative Price (FRP), is fixed by the Central Government well before the start of the season while the state government fixes the State Advised Price (SAP), always significantly higher than FRP. The State Government controls the sugarcane command area while the Central Government regulates exports and imports. The Company is in close association with Indian Sugar Mills Association (ISMA) and The South Indian Sugar Mills Association (SISMA), is in the process of developing a common strategy for appropriate policies in the sugar sector.

SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND NOTES TO ACCOUNTS

SCHEDULE 19

1. Significant Accounting Policies

i. Basis of preparation of Financial Statements

The financial statements of the Company are prepared to comply in all material aspects with the applicable accounting principles in India, the Accounting Standards notified under Sub-section (3C) of Section 211 of the Companies Act, 1956 (hereinafter referred as "the Act") and other relevant provisions of the Act.

ii. Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements requires the management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported balances of assets and liabilities on the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Management believes that the estimates used in the preparation of financial statements are prudent and reasonable. Actual results could differ from these estimates. Any revision to accounting estimates is recognised prospectively in the current and future periods.

iii. Revenue Recognition

Revenue is recognised when the significant risks and rewards of ownership of goods have been passed on to the buyer. Sale of goods is exclusive of sales tax and captive consumption of Molasses, Power and Bagasse.

Dividend Income is recognised in the year in which the right to receive the payment is established.

Income from investments is recognised in the year in which it is accrued and stated at gross of tax deducted at source.

iv. Fixed Assets

Fixed Assets are stated at cost of acquisition and subsequent improvements thereto including taxes, duties, freight and other incidental expenses for bringing the asset concerned to its working condition for its intended use, less accumulated depreciation and impairment loss. Interest on borrowings attributable to qualifying assets are capitalised and included in the cost of fixed assets as appropriate. Intangible assets are stated at the consideration paid for acquisition less accumulated amortisation.

v. Leases

Assets acquired under Leases, where the Company has substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership, are classified as finance leases. Such leases are capitalised at the inception of the lease at lower of the fair value or the present value of the minimum lease payments and a liability is created for an equivalent amount. Each lease rental paid is allocated between the liability and the interest cost, so as to obtain a constant periodic rate of interest on the outstanding liability for each period.

Assets acquired as leases, where a significant portion of the risk and rewards of ownership are retained by the lessor, are classified as operating leases. Lease rentals are charged to the Profit and Loss Account on accrual basis as per terms of the lease.

vi. Depreciation and Amortisation

Depreciation is provided on straight line method, pro rata to the period of use, at the rates specified in schedule XIV of the Act or the rates based on the useful lives of the assets as estimated by the management, whichever is higher. The rates based on the useful lives of the assets in the following categories are estimated to be higher than those specified in Schedule XIV of the Act:

Description	Rate of depreciation
Electrical Equipment	5.38%
Telephone Equipment	6.33%
Computer Software	16.67%

Lease hold assets are amortised at rate based on the remaining period of lease or the rate specified in Schedule XIV of the Act, whichever is higher.

All individual assets costing Rs 5,000/- or less are fully depreciated in the year of purchase.

vii. Impairment

Impairment loss is provided to the extent carrying amount of assets exceeds their recoverable amount. Recoverable amount is higher of asset's selling price and its value in use. Value in use is the present value of estimated future cash flows expected to arise from the continuing use of an asset and from its disposal at the end of its useful life. Net selling price is the amount obtainable from the sale of an asset in an arm's length transaction between knowledgeable, willing parties, less the costs of disposal.

viii. Investments

- (a) In so far as they relate to the acquisition of depreciable capital assets, are added to or deducted from the cost of the asset and are depreciated over the balance life of the asset; and
- (b) In other cases, the said exchange differences are accumulated in a 'Foreign Currency Monetary Items Translation Difference Account' and amortised over the balance period of such long term asset/liability but not beyond March 31, 2011.

All other monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currency are restated at the rates ruling at the year end and all exchange gains/ losses arising there from are adjusted to the Profit and Loss Account, except those covered by forward contracted rates where the premium or discount arising at the inception of such forward exchange contract is amortised as expense or income over the life of the contract.

Exchange differences on forward contracts are recognised in the Profit and Loss Account in the reporting period in which the exchange rates change. Any profit or loss arising on cancellation or renewal of such forward contracts is recognised as income or expense for the year.

For forward exchange contracts and other derivatives that are not covered by Accounting Standard (AS) -11 'The Effects of Changes in Foreign Exchange Rates', the Company follows the guidance in the announcement of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) dated March 29, 2008, whereby for each category of derivatives, the Company records any net mark-to-market losses. SCHEDULE 19

1. Principles of Consolidation:

The consolidated financial statements include financial statements of the Company and its subsidiary companies. Subsidiary companies are those companies in which Parrys Sugar Industries Limited, either directly or indirectly, has interest of more than one half of voting power or otherwise has power to exercise control over operations. Subsidiaries are consolidated from the date on which effective control is transferred to the group till the date such control exists. The consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with Accounting Standard (AS) 21 on Consolidated Financial Statements as specified in the Companies (Accounting Standard) Rules, 2006, and the relevant provisions of the Companies Act, 1956 in India.

All intra group transactions, balances and unrealised profits and losses on transactions between the group companies are eliminated.

Minority interest represents the amount of equity attributable to minority shareholders/partners at the date on which investment in subsidiary is made and its share of movements in equity.

The details of the subsidiary considered in the consolidated financial statements for the year ended June 30, 2011, alongwith the shareholding, is listed below:

Alagawadi Bireshwar Sugars Private Limited	Subsidiary	100%	100%

2. Significant Accounting Policies

i. Basis of preparation of Financial Statements

The financial statements of the Company are prepared to comply in all material aspects with the applicable accounting principles in India, the Accounting Standards notified under Sub-section (3C) of Section 211 of the Companies Act, 1956 (hereinafter referred as "the Act") and other relevant provisions of the Act.

ii. Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements requires the management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported balances of assets and liabilities on the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Management believes that the estimates used in the preparation of financial statements are prudent and reasonable. Actual results could differ from these estimates. Any revision to accounting estimates is recognised prospectively in the current and future periods.

iii. Revenue Recognition

Revenue is recognised when the significant risks and rewards of ownership of goods have been passed on to the buyer. Sale of goods is exclusive of sales tax and captive consumption of Molasses, Power and Bagasse.

Dividend Income is recognised in the year in which the right to receive the payment is established.

Income from investments is recognised in the year in which it is accrued and stated at gross of tax deducted at source.

iv. Fixed Assets

Fixed Assets are stated at cost of acquisition and subsequent improvements thereto including taxes, duties, freight and other incidental expenses for bringing the asset concerned to its working condition for its intended use, less accumulated depreciation and impairment loss. Interest on borrowings attributable to qualifying assets are capitalised and included in the cost of fixed assets as appropriate. Intangible assets are stated at the consideration paid for acquisition less accumulated amortisation.

v. Leases

Assets acquired under Leases, where the Company has substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership, are classified as finance leases. Such leases are capitalised at the inception of the lease at lower of the fair value or the present value of the minimum lease payments and a liability is created for an equivalent amount. Each lease rental paid is allocated between the liability and the interest cost, so as to obtain a constant periodic rate of interest on the outstanding liability for each period.

Assets acquired as leases, where a significant portion of the risk and rewards of ownership are retained by the lessor, are classified as operating leases. Lease rentals are charged to the Profit and Loss Account on accrual basis as per terms of the lease.

vi. Depreciation and Amortisation

Depreciation is provided on straight line method, pro rata to the period of use, at the rates specified in schedule XIV of the Act or the rates based on the useful lives of the assets as estimated by the management, whichever is higher. The rates based on the useful lives of the assets in the following categories are estimated to be higher than those specified in Schedule XIV of the Act:

Description	Rate of depreciation
Electrical Equipment	5.38%
Telephone Equipment	6.33%
Computer Software	16.67%

Lease hold assets are amortised at rate based on the remaining period of lease or the rate specified in Schedule XIV of the Act, whichever is higher.

All individual assets costing Rs 5,000/- or less are fully depreciated in the year of purchase.

vii. Impairment

Impairment loss is provided to the extent carrying amount of assets exceeds their recoverable amount. Recoverable amount is higher of asset's selling price and its value in use. Value in use is the present value of estimated future cash flows expected to arise from the continuing use of an asset and from its disposal at the end of its useful life. Net selling price is the amount obtainable from the sale of an asset in an arm's length transaction between knowledgeable, willing parties, less the costs of disposal.

- In so far as they relate to the acquisition of depreciable capital assets, are added to or deducted from the cost of the asset and are depreciated over the balance life of the asset; and
- In other cases, the said exchange differences are accumulated in a 'Foreign Currency Monetary Items Translation Difference Account' and amortised over the balance period of such long term asset/liability but not beyond March 31, 2011.

All other monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currency are restated at the rates ruling at the year end and all exchange gains/ losses arising there from are adjusted to the Profit and Loss Account, except those covered by forward contracted rates where the premium or discount arising at the inception of such forward exchange contract is amortised as expense or income over the life of the contract.

Exchange differences on forward contracts are recognised in the Profit and Loss Account in the reporting period in which the exchange rates change. Any profit or loss arising on cancellation or renewal of such forward contracts is recognised as income or expense for the year.

For forward exchange contracts and other derivatives that are not covered by Accounting Standard (AS) -11 'The Effects of Changes in Foreign Exchange Rates', the Company follows the guidance in the announcement of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) dated March 29, 2008, whereby for each category of derivatives, the Company records any net mark-to-market losses.
