MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Global Economic Overview

Global economic growth is forecasted at 3.1% for 2024 and 3.2% for 2025, slightly higher than previous projections due to stronger-than-expected resilience in the United States, key emerging markets, and fiscal support in China. However, growth remains below the historical average of 3.8% (2000–2019) due to elevated central bank interest rates aimed at curbing inflation, reduced fiscal support amid high debt levels, and low productivity growth.

Inflation is declining faster than anticipated in most regions, supported by easing supply-side constraints and restrictive monetary policies. Global headline inflation is expected to drop to 5.8% in 2024 and further to 4.4% in 2025, although the 2025 forecast has been revised downward. Despite these improvements, economic activity faces challenges, including tight monetary conditions and subdued productivity, highlighting the need for balanced policy measures to sustain growth and stability.

Indian Economic Overview

India's economy is projected to grow at 6.3% in FY2024 and maintain similar momentum in FY2025, driven by sustained domestic demand, government infrastructure investments, and a recovery in private capital expenditure. The manufacturing sector is expected to grow robustly, supported by the Production-Linked Incentive (PLI) schemes, while the services sector, contributing over 55% of GDP, continues to be a key growth driver. Agriculture, supported by rural demand and government interventions, remains stable. Despite global uncertainties, India's macroeconomic stability, fiscal discipline, and steady foreign investment inflows underpin its strong performance.

Government Initiatives

Over the years, the India government has introduced many initiatives to strengthen the nation's economy. The Indian government has been effective in developing policies and programs that are not only beneficial for citizens to improve their financial stability but also for the overall growth of the economy. Over recent decades, India's rapid economic growth has led to a substantial increase in its demand for exports.

For the MEP industry, the government's projected capital expenditure increases of over 37% in FY2024 and continued infrastructure focus in FY2025 offer substantial opportunities. Initiatives like "Smart Cities Mission," "Housing for All," Better infrastructure and expanding renewable energy investments further drive demand for energy-efficient and sustainable solutions. As green infrastructure and digital transformation gain traction, the MEP sector is poised for steady growth in FY2025.

Our Business Strategies

We believe we have a significant opportunity in the market given our differentiated value proposition of providing quality and customised services at a compelling value. We have set forth our key business strategies.

Retain, strengthen and grow customer base with a focus on maintaining relationships with existing customers

Our contracts with most of our customers is generally for a period of four months or more as the case maybe, with repetitive projects from the same clients. We have over the years established long-term relationships with our customers leading to recurrent business engagements with them and also via cross selling. We believe we have been able to retain existing customers and attract new customers because of our brand, strong market positioning and delivery of quality services. We believe in the phrase “Better Every Day” which means that we focus on quality customer service delivery and operational excellence on a daily basis, thus maintaining customer satisfaction. This also means that we focus sharply on leveraging technology to improve the visibility of service delivery via dashboards and also improve our Company’s reliability.

We believe that we will grow as our customers grow owing to an increase in the volume, scope and the value addition of services. The increasing demand for customized services, energy efficiency, quality benchmarks, compliance standards, increased need for quality products and timely management of services, are the key industry trends which will drive demand for organised players like us. Our PAN India presence is also expected to drive our growth as customers seek larger partnerships with fewer service providers thus consolidating their business partner network.

We also intend to further develop and implement technological and customer-oriented initiatives as we believe these will allow us to diversify our service offerings and exploit future growth opportunities. For instance, we are currently assigned a project by the Department of Atomic Energy, which requires specialised skillset and utmost sensitivity towards the installation of any electronic or other equipment along with its durability. Our scope of work for the Department for Atomic Energy shall include supply & installation of power distribution boards, supply and laying of cables and their end terminations, supply and fixing of light fittings, MCB Distribution Boards, point wiring, earthing, etc. It is a long-term order, an achievement as well as an opportunity which shall pave our way to expand our band with such credible government departments.

Such projects shall enable us to offer a new set of services and enhance customer experience. This will give them an assurance of quality and at the same time improvise our operating parameters such as maintenance costs, energy consumption, among others.

Growing market share in key segments

We seek to grow our business through the acquisition of new customers across industries such as real estate, industrial construction, petroleum refineries, warehousing and public infrastructure such as airports, etc. Our customer acquisitions are usually undertaken through two mechanisms being past track and technical business development. Past track is where our prospective customers check our past performance with existing customers. For example, the Department of Atomic Energy checks our past records and credibility with BPCL, L&T or HPCL. The role of our technical business development team is to procure new customers by briefing them about the scope of our services, quality, timely delivery and installation of equipment. We have a strong sales and marketing team which focuses on customer engagement and maintaining customer relationship. A significant portion of our business development activities is undertaken by our Managing Director himself and other operational heads.

Improve operating margins

Operating margin improvement is one of the key metrics to measure our performance. It is also reflected in the performance metrics of employees as well as in the budgeting process. Our margin improvement strategy rests on four key pillars:

1. Improving operating leverage: The idea here is to manage larger revenue streams with stable fixed and operating costs. We intend to reduce or maintain our fixed costs as compared with our revenues and therefore, improve EBITDA margins. We are also exploring and implementing gradually a shared services model to lower the costs of common services within our group and this is also expected to improve operating leverage on a group level.

2. Technology leverage: We have implemented IT solutions like enterprise resource planning software solutions to cover key areas of our operations. Digitalization will be a key area of focus for us going forward. We intensively use technology in relation to financial accounting and scheduling material purchase. We have a knowledge management system that enables us to centrally store, manage and retrieve critical documents and standard operating procedures. We shall continue to focus on and make investments in our IT systems and processes. This will automate processes to reduce manual intervention and reduce the negative impacts that we may have on our business.

3. Service mix within each business: The idea is to develop, enhance and promote our portfolio to the customers. Diversity of our customer base allows us to further increase the span of services offered to our existing customers through cross selling initiatives at the group level and help us add more services to our bouquet.

4. Increase our Geographical spread with existing services and provide additional services where we have presence: As on date, we have executed various projects in majority of the states across the country. We intend to further deepen our grips on atomic energy segment and public infrastructure including airports, state transport stations, etc. in the near future and other industries too in the long term. We intend to cater our services in other geographies where we already have on-ground presence and available engineering professionals to help us execute projects in cost effective manner for our clients. We are currently engaging in several Projects with both government and private sectors for increasing our business.

Business Operations

Contractual Arrangements with our Customers

We typically negotiate through written contracts in various formats including letter of awards and purchase orders with our customers for a term between four to six months or more as the case may be, renewable by mutual consent and terminable, with written notice, by either party. The government orders are through tenders and terms of which are materially mentioned in tender document, which are vetted by our team before applying. The nature of service contracts we enter into vary depending on the business segment, specific requirements of the customer and relevant industry practice. Across all three of our segments, the Mechanical, Electrical and Plumbing segment, the service contracts include variations of cost-plus contracts, fixed price contracts and Service Level Agreements (“SLA”) linked contracts.

1. Cost-plus contracts are contracts where the price is determined based upon our actual costs incurred for material purchase. Any margin on cost plus contracts may be a fixed amount or a percentage mark-up applied to costs incurred or a combination of both.

2. Fixed price contracts are contracts where the price of the services is usually fixed at the time of signing the contract. However, the contract may have cost escalation terms that enables us an increase in price should certain events occur or conditions change.

3. SLA linked contracts are those where we get paid as per certain agreed delivery parameters. These occur majorly in government or state-owned corporation contracts.

The invoices for these services rendered by our Company are raised in accordance with the terms and conditions of the agreement with the respective customer. The majority of our customers enjoy a credit period ranging from 60 days to 100 days. The process of revenue collection from our customers is initiated based on outstanding invoices raised to the clients and followed up through payment advices, or written communication to customers.

Material Ordering, Storing and Dumping at site

Generally, in most of the work orders and projects, our Company orders the material instead of procuring materials in advance. The strategy behind is to save the blockage of working capital and also to meet the changing client needs with respect to daily upgradation or requirements of materials.

The Company would order the material from supplier and the material directly is delivered by the supplier to the client site. The transport is arranged and managed by the supplier in most of the cases.

The clients allot a separate space to us for storing our materials, which is termed as "Stores". We cover the stores with aluminium or steel sheets or plates to make it separate and distinguished stores. The stores contain materials with respect to Mechanical, Electrical and Plumbing and a store manager is allotted, who is a skilled senior labourer or contractor having relevant experience in the field and who can keep the records for inventory.

In cases where the material is of high value like special electric cables, switch gears or touch panels etc., in such cases a separate room is allotted to our team to use as stores, which is equipped with lock and key. In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid standalone financial statements give the information required by the Act in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Company as at March 31, 2024, and profit/loss, and its cash flows for the year ended on that date.

Basis for Opinion

We have conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India and specified under Section 143(10) of the Act. Those Standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Other Information

The Company’s Board of Directors is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report but does not include the financial statements and our auditor’s report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements, or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information; we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Management's Responsibility for the standalone Financial Statements

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters in section 134(5) of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") with respect to the preparation of these standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Accounting Standards specified under Section 133 of the Act, read with Rule 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014. This responsibility also includes the maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provision of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting the frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of internal financial control, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We are also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Companies Act, 2013, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure, and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards. From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of Financial Statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the Company, (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of Financial Statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the Company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of the Management and directors of the Company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the Company's assets that could have a material effect on the Financial Statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at 31 March ,2024 based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.
