MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS REPORT

A. Global Economic Outlook:

The global economy is expected to decelerate slightly in 2025, as the effects of monetary tightening continue to ripple through advanced economies. Global growth is projected at 3.0 percent in 2025, with a marginal improvement to 3.1 percent in 2026, reflecting a modest but steady recovery. Growth in emerging market and developing economies (EMDEs) is expected to be 3.7 percent in 2025, rising to 3.9 percent in 2026, while advanced economies are projected to grow at 1.4 percent in 2025, held back by lingering high interest rates and muted external demand.

Inflation is forecast to decline further, with global headline inflation expected to fall to 4.2 percent in 2025 and 3.6 percent in 2026. Core (underlying) inflation is projected to ease more gradually, as service sector price pressures persist. The decline in inflation has allowed some easing of financial conditions, although central banks remain cautious.

The resolution of earlier financial sector stress, along with easing supply chain disruptions and lower energy prices, has helped moderate downside risks. However, risks to the global outlook remain tilted to the downside. These include the possibility of renewed financial instability as markets adjust to higher-for-longer interest rates, ongoing geopolitical tensions—especially the war in Ukraine—and the potential for more frequent and intense climate-related disruptions. China’s economic recovery may also face setbacks due to ongoing property sector issues and weak domestic demand, with global spillovers.

On the upside, faster-than-expected disinflation could allow monetary policy to ease sooner, while resilient domestic demand in key economies could support stronger growth. In this environment, the primary policy objective remains to achieve durable disinflation while safeguarding financial stability. Central banks should continue prioritizing price stability and reinforcing financial supervision and risk monitoring. In the event of market turbulence, prompt liquidity support should be provided while minimizing moral hazard. Governments are also encouraged to rebuild fiscal buffers, with fiscal adjustments focused on targeted support for the most vulnerable.

Structural reforms to improve supply-side capacity—such as boosting labor productivity, infrastructure, and competitiveness—would facilitate smoother fiscal consolidation and help align inflation with target levels.

For advanced economies, the growth slowdown remains marked. Following a growth rate of 2.7 percent in 2022, output grew by 1.6 percent in 2023 and is projected to stabilize at 1.4 percent in 2025, underscoring the ongoing impact of tight financial conditions. Approximately 90 percent of advanced economies are expected to experience slower growth in 2025 compared to pre-pandemic trends.

B. Overview of the Indian Economy:

The Indian economy is projected to continue with its growth trajectory, with an estimated growth of 6.50% in FY 2024-25, according to the second advance estimates released by the National Statistical Office (NSO), as compared to 9.20% economic growth in FY 2023-24. India’s economic growth reflects a steady and resilient performance in a dynamic global economic environment. The Indian economy continues to be driven by a revitalized manufacturing base and a thriving services sector, and supported by key reform-based policies of the government.

In spite of challenges like stagnant wages affecting domestic consumption, slowing global demand and climate disruptions, India maintains its status as the fastest growing economy, set to dominate the global economic landscape. With global growth expected to be around 2.70% in 2025 and 2026, India's performance underscores its resilience and growing significance in shaping the world's economic trajectory and establishing its role as a key driver of economic stability

As per International Monetary Fund's (IMF) list of World GDP Rankings 2025, India is currently among the top five largest economies in the world, with a GDP of USD 3.89 trillion (₹ 332.50 Lakh Crores) at current prices, having grown at an impressive rate in FY 2023-24. Despite global uncertainties, the Indian economy demonstrated remarkable resilience in 2024, characterised by strong GDP growth, substantial foreign exchange reserves, and record levels of foreign direct investment (FDI) inflows. Additionally, it is currently the third-largest economy in the world in terms of GDP based on purchasing power parity (PPP) with a GDP size of USD 16.02 trillion (₹ 1,369.31 Lakh Crores), as per the data from IMF.

C. Indian Industry Outlook:

Global electricity demand rose by 4.30% in CY 2024 and is forecast to continue to grow at close to 4% out to CY 2027. Rising global electricity demand is primarily fueled by growing expansion of electrification, industrial production, growing electricity consumption by data centers and growth in electric vehicles. Over the next three years, global electricity consumption is forecast to rise by an unprecedented 3,500 TWh, at its fastest pace in years over the Calendar Year (CY) 2025-27 period. While the electricity consumption of the advanced economies as a whole remained almost unchanged in CY 2024 compared with CY 2021, these economies are expected to account for 15% of global demand growth over the CY 2025-27 period. Most of the additional demand for electricity over the next few years is projected to come from the emerging economies, which is expected to make up 85% of this growth.

More than half of the global electricity demand in CY 2024 came from China. Overall electricity demand in CY 2024 grew 7%, similar to CY 2023. Supported by economic expansion and with the growing ownership of air conditioners, the South-East Asian countries, India and other emerging markets are recording strong demand growth. Electricity demand in China is forecast to increase by 6% on an average annually by 2027. India's electricity demand is forecast to grow at an average 6.30% annually over the next three years till 2027, stronger than the 5% average growth rate of demand for electricity recorded during FY 2015 to FY 2024

Solar has been the primary driver of this growth, with capacity increasing more than thirtyfold since 2014. India is steadily progressing toward its target of 500 GW of non-fossil fuel capacity by 2030. Supportive government policies, declining generation costs, and favorable investment conditions continue to enhance the sector's attractiveness. With an estimated renewable energy potential of over 24,000 GW, India is well-positioned to exceed its long-term clean energy deployment goals.

As India's energy demand is expected to reach approximately 15,820 TWh by 2040, renewable energy will play a central role in ensuring energy security, sustainability, and economic resilience in the decades ahead

D. Opportunities and Threats:

Opportunities:

- Green Energy Transition: Growing demand for renewable energy (solar, wind, hydro) requires advanced electrical infrastructure and heavy equipment.
- Smart Grid Development: Investments in modernizing electrical grids create demand for transformers, switchgear, and automation systems.

- Industrial Expansion in Emerging Markets: Rapid industrialization in Asia, Africa, and Latin America drives the need for large-scale electrical equipment.
- Public Infrastructure Projects: Government spending on transportation, utilities, and energy supports demand for heavy electrical systems.
- Technological Innovation: Opportunities in IoT integration, energy storage systems, and high-efficiency motors and transformers.

Threats:

- Raw Material Price Volatility: Fluctuating costs of steel, copper, and rare earths can impact profit margins.
- Intense Global Competition: Price wars and technological advancements from global players, especially in China and Europe.
- Regulatory and Compliance Pressure: Increasing environmental and safety regulations add operational and production costs.
- Supply Chain Disruptions: Dependence on global suppliers makes the industry vulnerable to delays, trade restrictions, or geopolitical tensions.
- Market Saturation in Developed Regions: Slower growth in mature markets limits expansion opportunities and intensifies competition.

E. Segment-wise or Product-wise performance:

The Company is primarily engaged in single segment i.e. solar business.

The Turnover of the Company for the Financial Year 2024-25 is Rs. 9,332.11 Lakhs.

G. Risks and concerns:

The solar EPC industry faces risks including regulatory changes that can alter project economics, intense competition that pressures profit margins, and supply chain disruptions impacting timelines and costs. Economic fluctuations and rapid technological advancements also pose challenges, along with the complexity of securing project financing. Effective risk management is essential for maintaining stability and growth in this sector.

H. Internal control systems and their adequacy:

The Company's internal control systems are crucial for ensuring regulatory compliance, managing financial risks, and maintaining operational efficiency in the solar EPC sector. Effective controls should encompass compliance with industry standards, robust financial management, and thorough risk mitigation strategies.

Additionally, the following measures are taken to ensure proper control:

- Implementation of standardized operating procedures.

Information Other than the Financial Statements and Auditor's Report Thereon

The Board of Directors of the Company is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the operational highlights, Directors' Report and its annexure, Management Discussion and Analysis, Business Responsibility Report, Corporate Governance and Shareholder's information and performance trend, but does not include the Financial Statements and our Auditor's Report thereon. These reports are expected to be made available to us after the date of auditor's report.

Our opinion on the Financial Statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the Financial Statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the Financial Statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information; we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

The Board of Directors of the Company is responsible for the matters stated in Section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these Financial Statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities, selection and application of appropriate accounting policies, making judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent, and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the Financial Statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the Financial Statements, the Management is responsible for assessing the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the Financial Statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error and to issue an Auditor's Report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they can reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these Financial Statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the Financial Statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under Section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of use of the going concern basis of accounting by the Management and based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our Auditor's Report to the related disclosures in the Financial Statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our Auditor's Report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the Financial Statements, including the disclosures and whether the Financial Statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the Company to express an opinion on the Financial Statements.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the Financial Statements that individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the Financial Statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in:

- (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work and
- (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the Financial Statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the Financial Statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our Auditor's Report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter must not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so will reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

ANNEXURE 'B' TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

(Referred to in paragraph 2(f) under 'Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements' section of our report to the Members of TROM INDUSTRIES LIMITED of even date)

Report on the Internal Financial Controls with reference to Financials Statements under Clause (i) of sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 (the "Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of TROM INDUSTRIES LIMITED (the Company) as of March 31, 2025, in conjunction with our audit of the Financial Statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Control

The Management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls with reference to financial statements based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the Guidance Note) issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (THE "ICAI"). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the policies of the Company, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the internal financial controls of the Company with reference to financial statements over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note issued by the ICAI and the Standards on Auditing prescribed under Section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the Auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the Financial Statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements over financial reporting of the Company.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

The internal financial control over financial reporting of a company is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of Financial Statements for external purposes in accordance with the Generally Accepted Accounting Principles. Internal financial control with reference to financial statements over financial reporting of a Company includes those policies and procedures that

- i) Pertain to the maintenance of records that in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the Company;
- ii) Provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of Financial Statements in accordance with the Generally Accepted Accounting Principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the Company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of Management and Directors of the Company; and
- iii) Provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the assets of the Company that can have a material effect on the Financial Statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Control over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the Company has, in all material respects, adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements and such internal financial controls were operating effectively as at March 31, 2025, based on the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (the “Guidance Note”).
