FROM THE DIRECTORS DESK

Dear Shareholders,

I am excited to present the Annual Report for FY 2024-25, a year of remarkable growth and achievement for Sunlite Recycling Industries Limited. This has been a year of transformation, with key milestones that have positioned the company for continued success.

One of our most significant achievements was the successful listing on the NSE SME on August 20, 2024. The IPO, priced at ₹105 per share, made an exceptional debut, listing at ₹209 per share—a 90% premium—demonstrating the confidence investors have in our business model and future prospects. This milestone provides us with a strong foundation for expansion and increased market visibility.

As part of our forward integration strategy, we have ventured into new product lines such as Copper Busbar and Annealed Tinned Coated Copper (ATC), with the launch of ATC in FY 2024-25 being a major step forward. This diversification strengthens our position in the market and aligns with our vision of offering value-added, high-quality products. We have also made significant investments in advanced manufacturing machinery, including fine wire drawing machinery, Hydraulic Drawing & Tension Straightening Machines, and Copper Wire Bunching Machines. These investments will enable us to enhance product quality and increase production efficiency, supporting our long-term growth strategy.

Regarding our sustainability efforts, in FY 2024-25, we have already installed a 510 kW rooftop solar plant. In addition, an additional 480 kW rooftop solar capacity has been installed, taking the total capacity to 990 kW, which is expected to be fully operational by the end of September 2025. This initiative plays a key role in reducing energy costs and minimizing our carbon footprint while supporting our commitment to sustainability.

Looking forward, we remain focused on expanding our production capacity, improving operational efficiencies, and advancing our sustainability goals. I would like to extend my sincere thanks to our employees, shareholders, customers, and partners for their ongoing support. Together, we are building a stronger, more sustainable future for Sunlite.

Warm Regards,
Nitin Kumar Heda
Managing Director

This consistent performance reflects our ability to maintain efficiency and deliver profitable growth.

Operationally, our overall capacity utilization improved to 87.76% in FY25, compared to 82.47% in FY24. Utilization of Copper Rods reached 92.89%, Copper Wires 65.94%, and Copper Strips 27.12%, highlighting the strength of our core manufacturing operations and our ability to respond to market demand effectively.

Our Company is engaged in the manufacturing of copper rods, wires, earthing products, conductors, and wire bars through recycling of copper scrap, which find applications in the power, electrical, and electronic industries. The copper industry, being highly capital-intensive and cyclical in nature, requires substantial investment, long gestation periods, and is significantly impacted by global commodity price fluctuations.

In the recent period, the Company's profitability has been adversely affected due to internal and external challenges such as volatility in copper prices, fluctuations in demand from user industries, increased raw material procurement costs, rising competition, and downward pressure on product margins. Additionally, high operating costs and the time required to achieve economies of scale have further impacted returns.

Despite these challenges, the Company remains committed to sustainable growth by focusing on efficient recycling practices, cost optimization, and maintaining strict quality standards to meet customer requirements. The management is confident that with continued innovation, process improvements, and strategic market positioning, the Company will be able to overcome prevailing challenges and improve its financial performance.

- Steps taken or proposed to be taken for improvement and expected increase in productivity and profits in measurable terms:

The Company has begun to witness encouraging signs of recovery, stability, and gradual growth in its copper manufacturing operations. A steadfast focus is being maintained on cost rationalization across functions and streamlining of business processes to drive efficiency. Key areas such as manpower utilization, supply chain management, procurement strategies, and infrastructure deployment are being reviewed to align with industry practices, optimize working capital, and strengthen cash flows.

To enhance productivity and profitability, the Company is undertaking a calibrated capacity expansion in its manufacturing facilities, with focus on optimized utilization of existing resources while minimizing gestation periods and initial costs. The recycling-based manufacturing model continues to provide sustainable and cost-effective inputs, enabling the Company to remain competitive even during volatile commodity cycles.

Further, the Company is diversifying its product mix by expanding production capabilities for new copper products in high demand within the power, electrical, and electronic industries. To support this growth, a robust marketing and distribution network is being developed both within India and in select international markets. This initiative is expected to broaden the Company's market reach, ensure faster offtake of production, and improve sales realization.

These strategic steps are already beginning to yield operational improvements, and with continued momentum, are expected to result in a steady increase in productivity and profitability in the coming periods. Over the longer term, with its focus on innovation, cost optimization, and sustained investment in the Indian power and electrical sectors, the Company aims to achieve greater market share, improved returns, and enhanced stakeholder value.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS REPORT

1. INDUSTRY STRUCTURE AND DEVELOPMENT:

- Robust Demand: The copper rod and wire products sector is witnessing consistent growth, driven by ongoing infrastructure development, electrification, and surging requirements from power, electrical, and electronic industries.
- India's copper demand rose from 1,159kT in FY2019 to 1,660kT in FY2025, expected to reach up to 2,560kT by FY2030, reflecting the critical role of copper in modern industrialization, especially electrification and renewable energy deployment.
- Growth in Recycling: The recycled copper market in India is expanding rapidly, supported by government initiatives for sustainability and circular economy practices. Secondary (recycled) copper is projected to form 55% of total demand by 2030.
- Electric Vehicle & Renewable Energy Push: Adoption of electric vehicles and renewable energy (solar, wind) is a major driver for copper products, amplifying demand for conductors and wires due to their essential role in power transmission and electronics.

2. OPPORTUNITIES & THREATS:

- Sustained High Demand: The demand for copper rods, wires, earthing products, and conductors remains robust due to major infrastructure development, renewable energy projects (especially solar and wind), electrification, and rapid growth in the power and electronics sectors. The continued advancement of electric vehicles (EVs) and telecommunications, notably 5G expansion, provides a strong demand tailwind for copper-based products.
- Strategic Positioning with Recycling: Growing emphasis on sustainability and circular economy policies benefits companies recycling copper scrap. Recycled copper is increasingly preferred for its lower environmental impact, and favorable regulations are encouraging greater use of recycled material in manufacturing.
- Rising Role in Automotive & Electronics: Increasing use of copper in EVs, battery tech, automotive components, and electronic devices presents significant new business avenues for manufacturers able to supply quality recycled copper products.

- Export Potential: India's positioning in the global supply chain is improving, with opportunities to export copper-based products due to rising demand and potential supply chain diversification by international buyers.
- Supply Chain Volatility: 2025 is marked by heightened challenges such as geopolitical instability, disruptions to copper mining in major exporting countries (Chile, Peru, DRC), and associated global supply uncertainty, which impacts raw material prices and availability.
- Quality Risks from Scrap: An influx of low-quality copper scrap poses both product quality and compliance risks. Without stringent standards and responsible recycling practices, product quality may be compromised, potentially resulting in reputational and financial losses for manufacturers.
- Competitive Market & Cost Pressures: The growing attractiveness of the sector invites new entrants and international competitors, intensifying price-based competition. Additionally, capital and operational costs (CapEx/OpEx) remain high, especially for modernizing recycling and refining technologies.
- Regulatory Compliance & ESG Demands: Increasing environmental, social, and governance (ESG) scrutiny necessitates investment in advanced, pollution-minimizing technologies and more transparent sourcing practices. Non-compliance or lagging behind sustainability expectations can hurt market access or attract penalties.

Challenges include raw material price volatility and supply chain risks, but companies investing in innovation and diversification are well-positioned for long-term growth aligned with global sustainability goals.

5. RISKS & CONCERNS

- Raw Material Price Volatility
The availability and prices of copper scrap, the primary raw material, are subject to market fluctuations influenced by global supply-demand dynamics. Sudden increases in scrap prices can impact production costs and profitability if not managed effectively.
- Supply Chain Disruptions
Dependence on timely supply of high-quality copper scrap exposes the company to risks from logistical challenges, geopolitical tensions, or regulatory changes that may hinder raw material sourcing or delay deliveries.
- Regulatory and Environmental Compliance
Stringent environmental regulations related to recycling operations, emissions, and waste management require continuous monitoring and investments to ensure compliance. Non-compliance could lead to penalties, operational stoppages, or reputational damage.

d) Technological Risks

Maintaining competitiveness requires ongoing investments in recycling and manufacturing technology. Failure to upgrade processes or adopt innovations may result in lower efficiency, higher costs, and compromised product quality.

e) Market Competition and Demand Variability

The industry faces competition from both primary copper producers and other recyclers. Demand fluctuations driven by economic cycles, infrastructure spending, or disruptions in key customer industries can affect sales volumes and margins.

f) Operational Risks

performance. Revenue from operations increased by 19.76%, reaching Rs.139,671.18 lakhs, reflecting higher production volumes and improved sales of copper rods, wires, earthing products, conductors, and wire bars manufactured through recycling copper scrap. This growth indicates successful market demand capture and operational scalability.

Profit Before Tax surged by 61.12% to Rs.1,919.62 lakhs, and Profit After Tax increased by 59.71% to Rs.1,427.23 lakhs, underscoring improved profitability driven by operational efficiencies and cost optimization in scrap sourcing, energy consumption, and process losses. The substantial increase in profitability despite expenses scaling moderately speaks to better margins from enhanced operational execution.

Overall, the financial performance reflects a strong correlation with operational improvements including higher production capacity utilization, process efficiencies, and effective cost management. These factors collectively strengthened the company's market position and profitability in the copper recycling manufacturing segment.

The Board of Directors of the Company is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the operational highlights, Directors' Report and its annexure, Management Discussion and Analysis, Business Responsibility Report, Corporate Governance and Shareholder's information and performance trend, but does not include the Standalone Financial Statements and our Auditor's Report thereon. These reports are expected to be made available to us after the date of auditor's report.

Our opinion on the Financial Statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the Financial Statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the Financial Statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information; we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

The Board of Directors of the Company is responsible for the matters stated in Section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these Financial Statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities, selection and application of appropriate accounting policies, making judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent, and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the Financial Statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the Financial Statements, the Management is responsible for assessing the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Management is of the opinion to either liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so. The Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

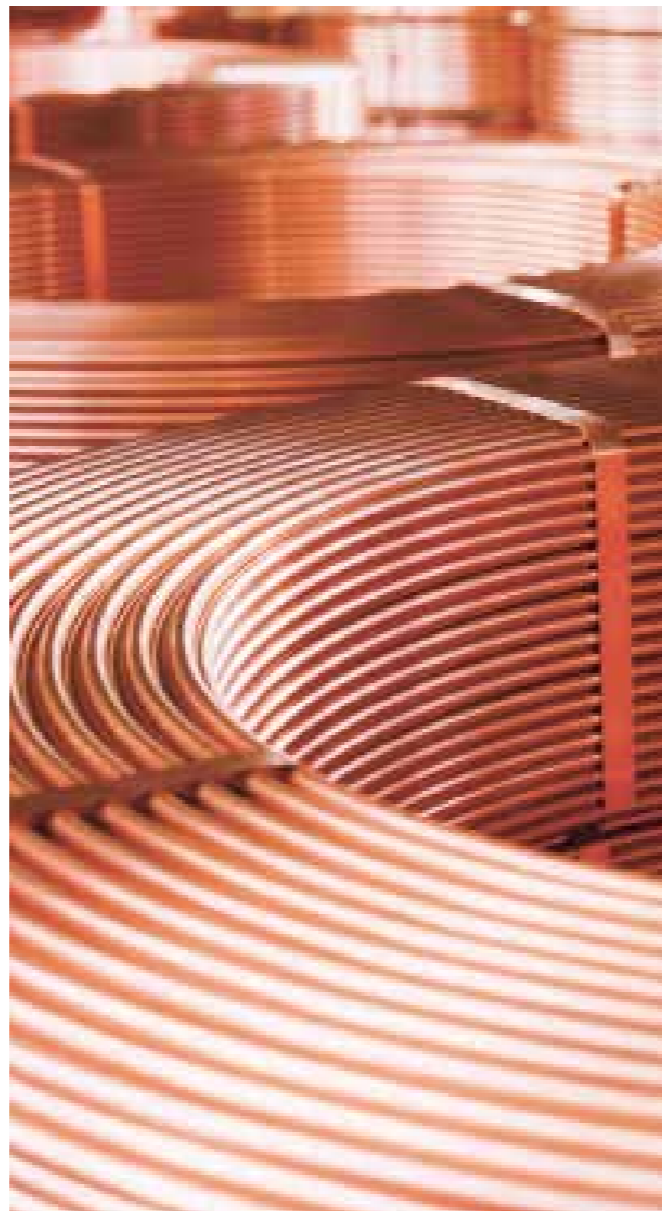

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the Standalone Financial Statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error and to issue an Auditor's Report that includes our opinion which gives reasonable assurance. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they can reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these Standalone Financial Statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the Standalone Financial Statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under Section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of use of the going concern basis of accounting by the Management and based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our Auditor's Report to the related disclosures in the Standalone Financial Statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our Auditor's Report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the Standalone Financial Statements, including the disclosures and whether the Standalone Financial Statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the Company to express an opinion on the Financial Statements.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the Standalone Financial Statements that individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the Standalone Financial Statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the Standalone Financial Statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the Financial Statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our Auditor's Report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter must not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so will reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The Management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the Guidance Note) issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (THE "ICAI"). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the policies of the Company, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the internal financial controls of the Company with reference to Standalone Financial Statements over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note issued by the ICAI and the Standards on Auditing prescribed under Section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the Auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the Financial Statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements over financial reporting of the Company.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

The internal financial control over financial reporting of a company is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of Financial Statements for external purposes in accordance with the Generally Accepted Accounting Principles. - iii) Provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the assets of the Company that can have a material effect on the Financial Statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Control over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

2 SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a Basis of Preparation

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Generally Accepted Accounting Principles in India ('Indian GAAP') to comply with the Accounting Standards specified under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013, as applicable. The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention on accrual basis, except for certain financial instruments which are measured at fair value.

b Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements requires the management of the Company to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported balances of assets and liabilities and disclosures relating to the contingent liabilities as at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of income and expense during the year. Examples of such estimates include provisions for doubtful receivables, provision for income taxes, the useful lives of depreciable Property, Plant and Equipment and provision for impairment. Future results could differ due to changes in these estimates and the difference between the actual result and the estimates are recognised in the period in which the results are known / materialise.

c Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, Plant and Equipment are stated at cost, less accumulated depreciation / amortisation. Costs include all expenses incurred to bring the asset to its present location and condition.

d Depreciation / Amortisation

In respect of Property, Plant and Equipment (other than freehold land and capital work-in-progress) acquired during the year, depreciation/ amortisation is charged as per WDV (Written Down Value) method so as to charge depreciation on fixed assets on their book value at the end of the year before charging such depreciation as per Schedule II of Companies Act, 2013.

Type of Assets	Period
Buildings	30 Years
Plant and Equipment	15 Years
Furniture and Fixtures	10 Years
Vehicles	10 Years
Office equipment	5 Years
Computers	3 Years

e Leases

Assets taken on lease by the Company in its capacity as lessee, where the Company has substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance lease. Such a lease is capitalised at the inception of the lease at lower of the fair value or the present value of the minimum lease payments and a liability is recognised for an equivalent amount. Each lease rental paid is allocated between the liability and the interest cost so as to obtain a constant periodic rate of interest on the outstanding liability for each year.

Lease arrangements where the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an asset substantially vest with the lessor, are recognised as operating leases. Lease rentals under operating leases are recognised in the statement of profit and loss on a straight-line basis.

f Impairment

At each balance sheet date, the management reviews the carrying amounts of its assets included in each cash generating unit to determine whether there is any indication that those assets were impaired. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of impairment. Recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's net selling price and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows expected from the continuing use of the asset and from its disposal are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects the current market assessments of time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. Reversal of impairment loss is recognised as income in the statement of profit and loss.

g Investments

Long-term investments and current maturities of long-term investments are stated at cost, less provision for other than temporary diminution in value. Current investments, except for current maturities of long-term investments, comprising investments in mutual funds, government securities and bonds are stated at the lower of cost and fair value.

h Revenue recognition

Revenue from the sale of copper wire and cables are recognised upon delivery, which is when title passes to the customer. Revenue is reported net of discounts.

Dividend is recorded when the right to receive payment is established. Interest income is recognised on time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding and the rate applicable.

i Taxation

Current income tax expense comprises taxes on income from operations in India and in foreign jurisdictions. Income tax payable in India is determined in accordance with the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961. Tax expense relating to foreign operations is determined in accordance with tax laws applicable in countries where such operations are domiciled.

Minimum Alternative Tax (MAT) paid in accordance with the tax laws in India, which gives rise to future economic benefits in the form of adjustment of future income tax liability, is considered as an asset if there is convincing evidence that the Company will pay normal income tax after the tax holiday period. Accordingly, MAT is recognised as an asset in the balance sheet when the asset can be measured reliably and it is probable that the future economic benefit associated with it will fructify.

Deferred tax expense or benefit is recognised on timing differences being the difference between taxable income and accounting income that originate in one period and is likely to reverse in one or more subsequent periods. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using the tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date.

Advance taxes and provisions for current income taxes are presented in the balance sheet after off-setting advance tax paid and income tax provision arising in the same tax jurisdiction for relevant tax paying units and where the Company is able to and intends to settle the asset and liability on a net basis.

The Company offsets deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities if it has a legally enforceable right and these relate to taxes on income levied by the same governing taxation laws.

j Foreign currency transactions

Income and expense in foreign currencies are converted at exchange rates prevailing on the date of the transaction. Foreign currency monetary assets and liabilities other than net investments in non-integral foreign operations are translated at the exchange rate prevailing on the balance sheet date and exchange gains and losses are recognised in the statement of profit and loss. Exchange difference arising on a monetary item that, in substance, forms part of an enterprise's net investments in a non-integral foreign operation are accumulated in a foreign currency translation reserve.

k Inventories

Raw materials are carried at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined on a weighted average basis. Purchased goods-in-transit are carried at cost. Work-in-progress is carried at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Stores and spare parts are carried at lower of cost and net realisable value. Finished goods produced or purchased by the Company are carried at lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost includes direct material and labour cost and a proportion of manufacturing overheads.

l Cash and cash equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid financial instruments, which are readily convertible into known amount of cash that are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value and having original maturities of three months or less from the date of purchase, to be cash equivalents.

m Provisions, Contingent liabilities and Contingent assets

Provision Involving Substantial Degree of estimation in measurement are recognised when there is a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that there will be an outflow of resources.
