1. Regulatory and Compliance Risks

The pharmaceutical, nutraceutical, and medical devices industries are highly regulated. Noncompliance can lead to product recalls, penalties, or suspension of licenses.

schedules and customer commitments.

3. Market Competition

The industry is highly competitive with both domestic and multinational players. Intense pricing pressure, product innovation by competitors, and shifting customer preferences can affect our market share and profitability.

4. Quality Control Issues

Any lapse in quality assurance, especially in pharmaceutical and surgical products, may lead to serious reputational damage, legal liabilities, and customer distrust. Maintaining consistent quality is critical.

5. Technological Advancements:

Rapid technological changes in formulations, manufacturing processes, or packaging may render existing products less competitive or obsolete if not timely adopted.

6. Public Health Crises and Pandemics:

Unforeseen health emergencies, such as pandemics, may disrupt supply chains, reduce workforce availability, or shift market demand unpredictably, affecting both production and distribution.

7. Data Security and Digital Infrastructure:

As operations become increasingly digital, risks related to cyber-attacks, data breaches, and IT system failures may affect business continuity and customer trust.

∂ Human Resource/Industrial Relations:

Strength

- Essential Nature of Products: High demand for healthcare, hygiene, and wellness products makes the industry recession-resistant.
- Diverse Product Portfolio: Offering a wide range of products (sanitary pads, nutraceuticals, pharma, surgical items) diversifies risk and broadens customer base.

- Growing Health Awareness: Rising consumer awareness around health, hygiene, and wellness fuels sustained demand across categories.
- Government Support: Health-focused government schemes like Ayushman Bharat, Menstrual Hygiene Scheme, and PLI schemes for pharma boost industry growth.
- Expanding Rural & Semi-urban Markets: Untapped potential in rural areas, especially for feminine hygiene and generic medicines.
- Established Distribution Channels: Strong distribution networks help ensure product availability and brand penetration across regions.

Weakness

- Regulatory Complexity: The industry faces strict compliance requirements (CDSCO, FSSAI, etc.), which can delay product launches or increase operational costs.
- Dependency on Raw Material Imports: Certain APIs, excipients, or machinery parts are imported, making manufacturers vulnerable to global supply disruptions.
- Price Sensitivity: Consumers, especially in rural markets, are highly price-sensitive, which can limit margins.
- Low Differentiation in Generic Products: Commoditization of pharma and surgical items reduces pricing power and brand loyalty.
- Inventory Management Challenges: Perishable or regulated products (like medicines) require stringent inventory handling and shorter shelf life.

Opportunities

- Rising Demand for Preventive Healthcare: Growth in demand for supplements, energy powders, and wellness products due to lifestyle-related health issues.
- _E-commerce & Digital Health: Online platforms for healthcare products and telemedicine open new distribution and marketing channels.
- _Sustainable & Eco-Friendly Products:_Growing consumer preference for biodegradable and organic sanitary products provides scope for innovation.
- Public Health Initiatives & Insurance:_Expansion of public healthcare schemes and private insurance can increase access to surgical and pharma products.
- Export Potential: India's reputation as a global pharma hub creates opportunities to export sanitary, nutraceutical, and surgical items to emerging markets.

Threats

- Regulatory Changes: Sudden changes in health regulations, price controls (e.g., DPCO), or taxation (e.g., GST) can disrupt operations.
- Counterfeit & Substandard Products: Presence of low-quality or fake products in the market can damage brand reputation and consumer trust.
- Intense Competition: Highly competitive landscape with large MNCs, regional players, and new entrants eroding market share and pricing power.

- Economic Slowdowns: While partially recession-proof, prolonged economic downturns can affect consumer spending on non-essential or premium products.
- Technological Disruption: Rapid innovation in pharma or sanitary technology may render existing products obsolete if not adapted promptly.

∂ Outlook:

The outlook for the healthcare, personal care, and wellness industry remains highly promising, driven by increasing awareness of hygiene, growing health consciousness, rising disposable incomes, and continuous advancements in medical science and technology.

In the pharmaceutical and nutraceutical sectors, demand is expected to grow steadily due to the rising prevalence of chronic diseases, aging population, and expanding access to healthcare in tier-2 and tier-3 cities. Preventive healthcare, particularly in the form of vitamins, minerals, and dietary supplements, continues to gain popularity, boosting the nutraceutical segment. Government initiatives such as Ayushman Bharat and increasing healthcare infrastructure are also expected to positively impact distribution businesses.

The sanitary napkin and feminine hygiene products market is experiencing strong growth, supported by increased awareness, social campaigns, and government programs to promote menstrual hygiene. With more women entering the workforce and a shift toward better quality and eco-friendly products, the sanitary pad segment is poised for innovation and expansion, particularly in rural and semi-urban areas.

In the surgical and medical supplies domain, post-pandemic awareness around infection control has driven consistent demand for items such as syringes, disposable masks, needles, and other hospital essentials. The sector is expected to grow with rising investments in hospital infrastructure, diagnostic centers, and home healthcare services.

Additionally, the intimate care market is expanding due to increasing consumer focus on personal hygiene and lifestyle upgrades. This segment is likely to see innovation and diversification, offering growth opportunities for companies with a strong distribution network.

Overall, the outlook is optimistic, with significant room for growth through diversification, digital integration, expansion into underserved markets, and adoption of sustainable practices. Companies that invest in quality, compliance, and customer-centric innovation are well-positioned to capitalize on the opportunities in this evolving industry landscape.

This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the company or to cease operation, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors is responsible for overseeing the company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of The Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when is exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these Financial Statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- i) Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- ii) Obtain an understanding of internal financial controls relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstance. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate Internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such control.
- iii) Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosure made by management.
- iv) Conclude the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to related disclosures in the financial statements or, If such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

v) Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the Financial Statements, including the disclosures and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transaction and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the Financial Statement that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the Financial Statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatement in the Financial Statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of Financial Statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

ANNEXURE "B" to the Auditors' Report

The members of MEDISTEP HEALTHCARE LIMITED

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub Section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of MEDISTEP HEALTHCARE LIMITED (the Company) as at 31st March, 2025 in conjunction with our audit of financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the Company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's Internal Financial Control over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting (the Guidance Note) and the Standard on Auditing deemed to be prescribed under Section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of Internal Financial Controls and both issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting were established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgment, including the assessment of the risk of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial control system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Control over Financial Reporting

A Company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statement for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the Company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditure of the Company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of the Management and directors of the company and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use or disposition of Company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitation of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial control over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of change in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at 31st March, 2025, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants Of India.

$\overline{\text{vi}}$ Sensitivity analysis for defined benefit obligation

	As	As at
	31 March 2025	31 March 2024
Impact of the change in discount rate
Present value of obligation at the end of the year	2.22	0.66
- Impact due to increase of 0.50 %	(0.20)	(0.06)
- Impact due to decrease of 0.50 %	0.23	0.07
Impact of the change in salary increase
Present value of obligation at the end of the year	2.22	0.66
- Impact due to increase of 0.50 %	0.22	0.07
- Impact due to decrease of 0.50%	(0.20)	(0.06)

The above sensitivity analysis are based on a change in an assumption while holding all other assumptions constant. In practice, this is unlikely to occur and changes in some of the assumptions may be correlated. When calculating the sensitivity of the defined benefit obligation to significant actuarial assumptions the same method (present value of the defined benefit obligation calculated with the projected unit credit method at the end of the reporting period) has been applied which was applied while calculating the defined benefit obligation recognised in the balance sheet.

The methods and types of assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analysis did not change compared to prior period.
