To All Concerned

Sub: Migration of content to New NSE Website.

New NSE Website was released in beta on August 14, 2019 and was made the default website on Jan 04, 2020. The new website is the product of the feedback of our stakeholders, changes in technology and international best practices that provide an enhanced architecture, speedier updates and more intuitive interface.

The new NSE website caters to the mobility and accessibility needs of various stakeholders with multiple customisation options like the interactive features in the "Quicklinks" Section at the footer of the website.

The NSE website has multiple products and provides information to different stakeholders. The content on the new website is arranged according to the stakeholder category and to assist our stakeholders to navigate through the new website, we have provided the list of the most accessed links in Annexure 1.

Key points

- The new website will be supported only on the latest browsers like Google Chrome, Mozilla and Edge. If used with older browsers, some features may not render correctly.
- The new website endeavours to provide standardised content and hence, titles, headers, Value, Volume and Open Interest are maintained in a consistent manner throughout the website.
- Derivatives "Volume" is provided in "Contracts" across the new website except for the "Bid & Ask" Quantity displayed in the "Order book" under Quote.
- Options "Value" is Premium value, a move away from Notional Value and in line with international best practices.
- Option Chain has a "Best View" option which opens in a new window and has larger fonts. It is also available in 3 places on the website. 1. Derivatives Quote 2. Market Watch > Option Chain (Footer of Market Watch Menu) and in the Search bar.
- The SEBI mandated Website Security Policy has been enforced on the new NSE website to protect Investor data and prevent misuse or theft of information.
 - Using scripts to download information or scrapping data from NSE website is not permitted. Hence most pages have a "Download in (.csv)" option enabled on the front end.

- Should you want to get the data subscription of the NSE website for your business needs, please click visit : <https://www.nseindia.com/market-data/real-time-data-subscription>
- The “Get Quote” section provides the full details of securities traded on NSE – Listed, permitted, suspended or other-wise. Corporate Information is available for the Company within Quote and you can directly access all information about the company from “View All”
- The search for Historical Data in Quote has been made much easier.
- Stakeholder’s Homepages – Investors, Members and Corporates have their Homepage which allow for tracking all updates pertaining to them.
- Global Search: The Global Search will provide the information for Quote first and applications later. To search a Quote, type its company name up to 4 characters. To refine the search enter more number of characters. To see all results – hit the enter button
- Market Snapshot: We have introduced Market Snapshot as a comprehensive view of the market for all products /segments and their intra-day data.
- Accessibility: NSE has introduced the High Contrast feature displayed as  on the right hand bar of the website.

Please raise your queries, feedback or suggestions using our Feedback Form: <https://www.nseindia.com/feedback/new> or write to us at: nsewebmaster@nse.co.in. The updates on the old website will no longer be available after August 2020.
