INFLATION MAY LIMIT MARGIN RECOVERY

L&T's ₹8.5-trillion order book healthy: Analysts

SHUBHRA TANDON Mumbai, May 13

LARSENANDTOUBRO'S (L&T) prospective order book of ₹8.53 trillion in the current fiscal, though lower by 6% against last fiscal, is seen as healthy by analysts. However, inflation may limit margin recovery.

The domestic share of these orders is at ₹6.31 trillion, while orders of ₹2.22 trillion are visible in the international markets. Infrastructure segment prospects will form a lion's share at ₹5.72 trillion. These orders will be spread across water, with a share of 21%, power T&D at 23%, transportation infrastructure at 19%, buildings and factories at 16%, heavy civil at 17% and metallurgical and material handling at 4%.

L&T's order inflows for FY22 remained below the guided range of low-to-mid teens, increasing 10% to ₹1.93 trillion, as award activity slowed down in the domestic market. R Shankar Raman, chief financial officer, L&T, said, "The speed with which the tenders were put out and awards were given in the previsation was delayed despite robust tendering activity as sharp increase in commodity prices led to change in projects costs estimates." However, the current ex-services order book at ₹3.5 trillion provides growth visibility, they said.

The L&T management has given a guidance of 12-15% growth in revenue for FY23, and expects to recoup some of the 100-basis-point margin decline during the year.

According to analysts, inflationary environment would limit the company's prospects of covering up for margin disappointment in FY23 and its guidance reflects this. However, L&T's guidance for revenue growth in low-to-mid teens could be achievable given the strong order backlog, with 98% of the order backlog moving well.

"The starting point is favourable with government tender conversion ratio to orders being a low 50% in FY22 versus 70% in FY21. This also reflects in a five-year low quantum of domestic share of order backlog at 73%," analysts at Kotak Institutional Equities said.

The company is also likely to invest ₹6,000-7,000 crore in new growth areas by FY26.
