Kids' fever cases giving states shivers

8 Dead In Agra In 4 Days, 15 Succumb In Bihar In A Month As 9 States See Spurt In Illness

Times News Network

On Sunday, 14-year-old Chhotu, son of a village pradhan or chahia village in Western Uttar Pradesh, died while he was being taken to hospital in Agra. Chhotu is among eight children who have died following high fever in the last four days in Agra district.

While this comes on the heels of UP's Pirozabad district recording deaths of 61 people who had viral fever and dengue-like symptoms, Chhattisgarh has reported deaths of three children in one month. It's not just in UP and Chhattisgarh. While the country fights Covid-19 and braces for a possible third wave of the pandemic, doctors in many states across India are dealing with people afflicted with fever and allied complications, due to causes other than Covid.

States like Bihar, Jharkhand, Uttarakhand, Madhya Pradesh, Rajasthan and Karnataka have also reported such cases. Most of these states have reported cases of dengue, scrub typhus, Japanese encephalitis, malaria, leptospirosis and typhoid, affecting mostly children.

It began with news of a 'mystery fever' killing children in several districts in western UP, prompting a team of doctors from Lucknow to visit Pirozabad, Agra, Mathura and Aligarh. It found that D2 strain of the dengue virus was causing the fever and many deaths were attributed to scrub typhus-induced meningitis.

In Chhattisgarh, the state government, worried over the deaths of children, has scrambled a team of paediatricians to Koriya district where more than 80 children are hospitalised with fever, cough and cold. State health officials said the deaths were due to a combination of the fever and congenital diseases.

In Bihar, government data shows around 7,000 children visited government health institutions with fever and other flu-related symptoms this month. So far, 15 have died.

State health department special secretary Sanjay Kumar Singh said humid weather and receding flood water could be the reason for children falling ill. While there was a scare initially in neighbouring Jharkhand about a mystery fever afflicting people, it turned out to be dengue.

"Viral fever and dengue cases have been reported among children in Karnataka. But there have been no deaths," said Dr KS Sanjay, director, Indira Gandhi Institute of Child Health, Bengaluru. The government-run Children's Hospital, which gets referrals from across the state, has seen 40 cases of dengue in the last two months.

While Uttarakhand government denied reports of any cases of scrub typhus, facing 174 cases in the health department confirmed the presence of such cases from a few districts in August and September.

In Madhya Pradesh, over 2,500 dengue cases have been detected since July. Districts in north MP, which share their borders with UP are also affected. However, in Bengal, health officials are still fixed, with more than 100 children affected by a mystery fever in north Bengal earlier this month. Five deaths have been reported so far.

While the cause of the fever remains unknown, none of the affected has tested positive for Covid or dengue.

NHAI holds up ₹20L dues for 9 yrs, coughs up ₹4.5cr

Dipak Dash@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: In a classic case, the Substantive how reel tape can result in government entities paying a big price at a later stage, the NHAI ended up releasing nearly Rs 4.5 crore to a private firm for holding back the clearing of bills of nearly Rs 20 lakh 8 years back.

The National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) made the final payment in December 2019, according to documents accessed by TOI, after the private firm won the arbitration award and also two cases in the Delhi HC. The NHAI had to pay this large amount due to the high interest rate. The firm was entitled to get 27% interest since it was registered under the MSME Development Act in February 2010 to oversee the toll collection at all toll plazas. The NHAI had submitted that the firm had failed to carry out continuous observations of the assignments given to it and there was a delay on its part in furnishing the reports. It had also said the payment was delayed as the reports were submitted late.

However, finally the NHAI cleared invoices of Rs 20 lakh. The private firm then took the matter to the MSME Facilitation Council citing delay in clearing of bills by the NHAI. The private firm had registered itself under the MSME Development Act in February 2010, barely a year after it signed the contract with NHAI. After the conciliation proceedings failed, the MSME Council referred the case to the Delhi International Arbitration Centre. In June 2018, the institutional arbitrator passed an award of Rs 2.2 crore along with interest at the rate of 27% per annum at monthly rest in favour of the private firm, commencing from July 2016.

The matter then reached the Delhi HC, which upheld the arbitration award and in May 2019, it directed the NHAI to pay Rs 4.2 crore to the private firm as on November 20, 2018. The NHAI made the payment of Rs 3.8 crore in July 2019. Later, the private player requested the demand for Rs 83.3 lakh as additional interest on the original award amount of Rs 2.2 crore for the period between November 2018 and the day it filed the petition in the HC and July 2019 (the day NHAI made the payment).

had signed an agreement with the NHAI in February 2010 to oversee the toll collection at all toll plazas. The NHAI had submitted that the firm had failed to carry out continuous observations of the assignments given to it and there was a delay on its part in furnishing the reports. It had also said the payment was delayed as the reports were submitted late.

ED to quiz 3 'dons' linked to SP & BSP

Pradeep Thakur@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: UP politicians Azam Khan, Mukhtar Ansari and Atiq Ahmad—all of them elected to UP assembly for at least five terms and currently in prison—will be questioned by Enforcement Directorate starting Monday for the next few days before the agency attaches their properties acquired through alleged money laundering and 'proceeds of crime' as public servants.

The ED has received court permission for custodial interrogation of SP's Lok Sabha MP Azam Khan from September 20 to 24 in connection with a money laundering case registered against him and his son, both currently in the district jail at Sitapur. The UP government has already moved to reclaim 170 acres of Azam Khan-controlled Mohammad Ali Jahaur University in Rampur. UP police and central agencies are investigating several other land grab cases.

The other alleged mafia dons associated with BSP and SP Mukhtar Ansari and Atiq Ahmad respectively, will be questioned in prison by ED officials and officers investigating the case. While Ansari is lodged in the district jail at Banda, Atiq is in Saharnpur jail in Ahmedabad.

ED Lucknow zone head Rajesh Singh confirmed that the agency has received permission from courts for custodial interrogation of these alleged dons. He didn't deny the attachment proceedings initiated against them.

The agency has clubbed Azam Khan with the others and has identified their properties and various other assets to attach them in money laundering cases being investigated against them and their family members.

While Azam Khan is a sitting Lok Sabha MP and a senior SP leader, Mukhtar Ansari has been five-time MLA from Mau on a BSP ticket. Atiq Ahmad too has his affiliation to SP and was elected to Lok Sabha in 2014 on a SP ticket. Mukhtar Ansari has 49 FIRs registered against him in cases related to murder, extortion and land grabbing. He also faces a case of laundering MLAs local area development funds and grabbing properties of evacuees who had migrated to Pakistan.

According to a dossier prepared by ED on Atiq Ahmad, he has 16 FIRs registered against him in cases of murder, extortion, land and companies grabbing. In one case, a businessman, Mohit Jaiswal, was brought to Doria jail where Atiq Ahmad was lodged. Jaiswal was thrashed and, facing a threat to his life, transferred at least three of his companies to Atiq Ahmad's aides.

ONGC's safety institute in Goa draws global, domestic biggies

Sanjay Dutta@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: An in-house institute of ONGC has emerged as a hub for fire safety and disaster management training for oil, petrochemical and airports industries in the Asia-Pacific region.

ONGC's Institute of Petroleum Safety, Health and Environment Management, set up by ONGC in Goa for training its personnel, is now drawing attention from global and domestic oil majors such as Cairn India, IndianOil, GAIL, Hindustan Petroleum and Oil India Ltd. Airport operators GMR and Airports Authority of India are the latest entrants to enrol their personnel for training.

"We have received queries from West Asia also, IPSEH head and ONGC executive director Anil Garg told TOI, prompting a debate within the group about IPSEH in-house training before the first big priority for training ONGC personnel. We have a backing only to Covid shutdown of in-house personnel who need to be trained in aspects such as survival to fire safety. So we will complete the in-house training before looking at meeting industry demand," Garg said, adding that a Rs 120 crore expansion plan has been drawn up.

The institute is training personnel from Russia's Rosneft, French major Total and domestic oil majors such as Cairn India, IndianOil, GAIL, Hindustan Petroleum and Oil India Ltd. Airport operators GMR and Airports Authority of India are the latest entrants to enrol their personnel for training.
