

Headline: Fortune India's list of powerful women in the Indian Business for 2015

Source: Fortune Magazine

Date: 10 November 2015

ASMD AND CEO of India's largest stock exchange from April 2013, Ramkrishna has been keeping busy with NSE's consolidation in the Indian securities trading market after the third large exchange in India, MCX, suffered from issues relating to its ownership. NSE has been growing from strength to strength. Last year, it traded stocks worth Rs 64,153,943 crore in five segments—capital markets, equity futures and options, wholesale debt market, currency futures and options, and interest rate futures—28.4% higher than what it had achieved a year before.

NSE'S CORE SYSTEM IS ONE OF THE MOST TRANSACTION-INTENSIVE SYSTEMS IN THE COUNTRY TODAY.

10

CHITRA RAMKRISHNA, 52
MD & CEO, NSE

2014 RANK: 11

